GI Home Loan Program Extension Sought

Old Bill Is To Expire Next Year

Move to Prevent Building Slump

Washington, May 24 (AP)—A three-year extension of the GI home loan program was proposed to the Senate today as an amendment to the multibillion dollar omnibus housing bill.

Sen. Lehman (D-N. Y.) said he planned to sponsor the extension along with Sens. Hill (D-Ala.) and Sparkman (D-Ala.). He made the surprise announcement as the Senate prepared to take up the housing bill, which would increase Federal Housing Administration (FHA) loan insurance authority, continue public housing development and provide special low-cost housing for elderly persons.

THE GI LOAN program now is scheduled to expire for most veterans on July 25, 1957, but its extension has been urged by home builder and real estate groups and by veterans organizations. They have contended action must be taken this year to prevent a big slowdown in home building.

Lehman said his proposed amendment would apply to both the loan guarantee and the direct loan programs operated by the Veterans Administration (VA).

As of the end of 1955, the VA estimated it had underwritten 4,260,000 GI home loans with a total principal of about 33 billion dollars. About one in every five loans had been paid off in full, it said.

EXCEPT FOR the GI loan extension, Sparkman said he expects the measure to be passed by the Senate in about the same form approved by the Senate banking committee. Sparkman, floor manager for the bill, said he thought one day of debate would be sufficient.

The principal fight is expected to be made over public housing. The committee recommended authorization for about 135,000 new units of public housing each year. President Eisenhower asked a program limited to 35,000 units a year for two years.

Sen. Capehart (R.-Ind.), administration spokesman on housing, said he would ask that Eisenhower's program be substituted for the committee figure, but advocates of the lower

Joint Chiefs May Go To Russia Is Report

Washington, May 24 (AP)—A White House spokesman said today he "wouldn't be surprised" if the Joint Chiefs of Staff should pay a visit to the Soviet Union if the Russians invited them.

Acting Press Secretary Murray Snyder, said however, no invitation has yet been received.

Snyder commented on a report in a copyright story published in the New York Daily News that Russia has sent word "it would welcome a visit by the entire U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff for an inspection of the Soviet armed forces."

The Daily News story, under the byline of Peter Wallenberg, said the information came from United Nations sources.

Presumably the Soviets would expect a similar invitation from the United States for their own military leaders.

Snyder said at first, when asked about the report: "There has been no invitation."

Later, however, after making some checks with the government officials, he said that since the Geneva Conference "there have been informal discussions about high officials of our government visiting Russia."

Snyder declined to say which officials are involved in the talks. But when asked if the joint chiefs would accept an invitation to visit the Soviet Union he replied:

"I wouldn't be surprised."

Snyder said he did not know

Medical Society Accepts Report On Fluoridation

The Ulster County Medical Society has unanimously approved a committee report on fluoridation dealing with it from a medical and dental standpoint, according to an announcement to The Freeman today.

A committee of four physicians presented the report to the association after checking statistics presented in debates and data in articles by writers on the subject.

The society passed a resolution, after accepting the report, which noted that:

The recent study and investigation by this Fluoridation committee has resulted in the following conclusions—

1. The study has failed to reveal any harmful side reactions or injurious processes resulting from the controlled fluoridation of drinking water as recommended by the Health Department of the State of New York.

2. Studies have definitely proven that the incidence of dental decay is diminished in those communities in which proper concentrations of fluorine are present, whether naturally

Vote Urged on Bond Issue

Urban Route Funds Called Important

New York state voters should consider the need for urban arterial route funds as well as those needed for state road improvement when they again have opportunity to vote on the $500,000,000 highway bond proposition, John W. Johnson, state public works superintendent, said last night at Newburgh.

Johnson spoke before the Newburgh Automobile Club at its annual dinner in the Palatine Hotel, Newburgh.

APPROVAL of the proposition in November is essential to the orderly expansion of the state's highway improvement program, he said.

"Since the state must have available the necessary funds to match proposed increases in federal aid," he declared, "the bond money is an absolute necessity, if we are to carry out our long-range program, which, over a period of 13 years, is calculated to require the expenditure of 4.3 billion dollars."

SLIGHTLY more than half of this would constitute New York state's share, he noted, and he held that although the state had managed to match federal allotments, to date, it might face forfeiture of its right to increased federal assistance, if it was not prepared for the greater demands of the future.

Urban arterials are necessary, he said, in order to avoid traffic strangulation in and around New York's three-score cities.

"IT IS an unpleasant fact," he said that in the 12 years since this arterial program was launched, only 13 per cent of the upstate urban projects so ambitiously planned, are either constructed or under way."

This year, he said, "we aim

Central Facing 10-Year Project Of Rebuilding

Albany, N. Y., May 24 (AP)—President Alfred E. Perlman of the New York Central Railroad told the annual shareholders meeting today that the road faces a ten-year rebuilding job involving the entire physical property of the system.

Perlman said two massive problems face the Central in reducing its transportation expenses: First the huge passenger deficit and, second, the Central's physical structure, much of which, he said, is obsolete and non-unified.

UNTIL THE entire physical property is practically rebuilt and until the road can get control of passenger service costs—now a huge fixed charge because of the nature of control by federal and state agencies—it will be impossible to make the kind of progress in cutting transportation costs that the Central has already made in the mechanical department and is making in maintenance-of-way, Perlman said.

The nation's railroads need "some real tax relief, comparable to that received by other forms of transportation" if they

Report Shows Kingston Crime Rate Low in '55

New York, May 24 (Special)—Kingston was able to turn in a better crime record for the past year than most other cities in the United States.

Fewer offenses were recorded in Kingston in the period, in proportion to population, than in most communities.

The figures, gathered by the Federal Bureau of Investigation from police departments throughout the country, are presented in the FBI's annual Uniform Crime Reports.

Kingston police were called upon in the year to act in the case of 224 crimes. This volume represents a rate of 760 offenses per 100,000 people. It was considerably better than the record for the other cities over 25,000 in the United States, for which a rate of 1,918 crimes per 100,000 is reported.

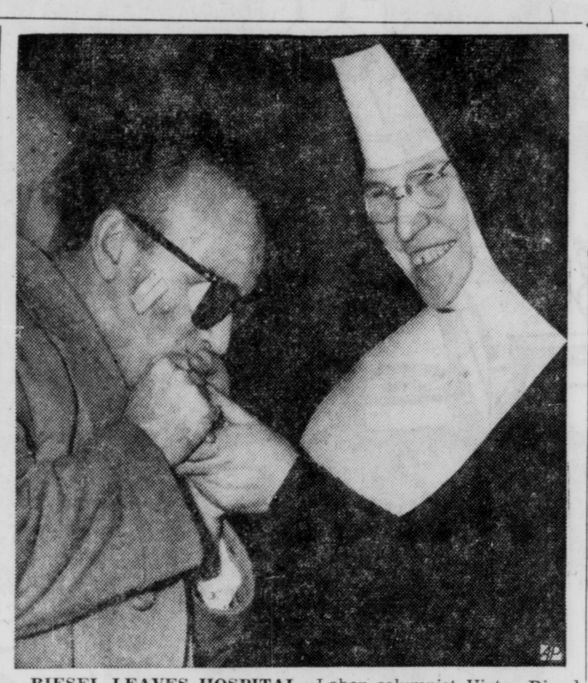

The local situation was better, also, than that reported for all the cities, large and small. They averaged 1,832 crimes per 100,000 residents.

The FBI finds that there was only a minute drop in major crimes in the United States in 1955. Small as it was, it was the first year in eight to show no overall increase. Actually, notes J. Edgar Hoover, the credit goes to the cities over 250,000, which brought the average down with a 4.3 per cent reduction. The smaller cities were up 2.9 per cent.

In Kingston, according to a breakdown of local crime statistics into the six standard categories, larcenies led in number, with 134 reported. The other figures were: burglaries, 69, auto thefts, 13, assaults, seven, robberies, one, and murders, none.

Juveniles continue to play an important role in the crime picture. Arrests of people under 18 rose more than eleven per cent last year. Much of it was for thefts of property, especially automoblies.

A look backward, to 1950, shows the fight against crime to be losing ground. Compared with a population rise of nine per cent, in the five years, we have had a crime rate rise of 26 per cent, nearly three times greater.

TB Patients Without Care Infect 80,000

BY ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Science Reporter

New York, May 24 (AP)—People sick with TB, but not in hospitals, pass TB to at least 80,000 other persons a year, a health official said today.

These patients are the most important problems now in tuberculosis control, said Dr. Edward X. Mikol, general director of tuberculosis hospitals, New York State Department of Health, Albany.

Mikol, in an address prepared for the National Tuberculosis Assn., discussed a U. S. Public Health Service report showing that 45 per cent of TB patients are not hospitalized.

This study finds 87 per cent of the nonhospitalized patients are in advanced stages of TB. Half are 45 or older. Above age 35, there are twice as many men as women with TB but not hospitalized.

A main implication is that it is "certainly the unhospitalized tuberculosis cases, both the known and unknown, that produce the 80,000 new cases reported each year in this country."

Mikol said the problem calls for more efforts to find and treat persons with TB, particularly in areas, such as poorer economic sections of cities, where they are more prevalent.

More clinics and out-patient facilities are needed in hospitals to treat them, he added.

Mikol said it will take time to

U. S. Fire Losses $885 Million in '55

New York, May 24 (AP)—Fire losses in the United States totaled 885 million dollars last year — an increase of 15 million over the previous year—the National Board of Fire Underwriters reported today.

"The dual cause 'matches-smoking' continues to be the major cause of fire with 'misuse of electricity' second, although the latter ranks highest of all causes in total dollar loss," the board said.

May Talk Viaduct, Creek Span

Interstate Job Is Desirable Way

Kingston's arterial route plan, along with requested addition of the Washington avenue viaduct and Esopus Creek bridge problems, are expected to be discussed in Albany tomorrow, a state official said today.

A main point of the discussion, it was indicated, will be the proposal that the work be done "under the interstate system" with the federal government paying a higher percentage of the cost.

PLANS FOR the arterial route system, as originally outlined, are "well advanced," it was learned today, and it is hoped that the discussion will result in a move toward elimination of the viaduct bottleneck and replacement of the narrow Esopus creek bridge.

Acceptance of the project under the interstate system, along with federal assistance in meeting the cost, would mean completion of the work under federal government standards, and this phase of the proposal is expected to be discussed tomorrow.

"We expect that an effort will be made to come to some understanding" as to the viaduct and Esopus creek bridge problems, the official said.

THIS YEAR, the state plans to place under contract $30,000,000 "in urban contracts in upstate New York," John W. Johnson, state public works superintendent, revealed last night in a talk before members of the Newburgh Automobile Club.

It was indicated earlier this year that Kingston's arterial route plan could be ready for start of work within the next few months.

State officials have also indicated that the viaduct and bridge problems could be treated as an addition to the plan as it is now advanced, and this could mean that not too much time would be lost in making adjustments.

A MAJOR PHASE of the city's arterial route plan will be construction of a spur to extend northwestward from Albany avenue and Broadway to the Route 28 thruway interchange. The plan as originally outlined, also called for a connection with Fair street extension.

Sections of Broadway, Wurts and McEntee streets, and other streets, would be added to the system, and would be state-maintained. A traffic circle or interchange system would be built in the triangular area formed by Broadway, Albany avenue and

Police Checking Mischief Angle On Rolling Cars

Police were asked early today to investigate what might have been mishap, mischief or attempted theft resulting in damage to two automobiles which had been left parked on hills.

A report at 4:03 a. m., said the sedan of Salvator Grecco, of 136 West Pierpont street, parked in front of that address, had rolled down hill and struck the ground-floor apartment of Monica Laemmermann in a building owned by William Burr at 112 West Pierpont street.

A cellar window, sidewalk and fence were reported damaged, and the car was damaged to the extent that it had to be towed to a garage. It had been left

New President of Jaycees

Cheser B. Diffley was unanimously elected president of the Kingston Junior Chamber of Commerce for the 1956-57 year at the organization's regular monthly business meeting last night in the Moose Lodge on West Chestnut street. Mr. Diffley succeeds John G. Doyle, who was elected state director.

Other officers elected were vice president, Peter Kowalenko; secretary, Donald Droulette; treasurer, William Bieber; directors for two years, John Shults Jr. and Marvin Millens; director for one year, Ernest Rowe.

The Kingston Junior Chamber of Commerce was named the best Jaycee chapter in New York state in the city population category of 25,000-100,000 at the New York State Junior Chamber of Commerce convention in Binghamton during the past weekend.

Area Orchards Not Hit Hard

No serious damage has been reported to Ulster county area fruit crops following another chilly night Wednesday when the temperature dipped as low as 18 degrees in one section of the state.

William F. Palmer, county agricultural agent, was not available for comment this morning but his office said that as of 10:30 today, "nothing of a serious nature had been reported." The spokesman said there was apparently some freezing in the county area, however.

Kingston's low for the night, reported by the city engineer's office as 41 degrees at 6 a. m. today, was in sharp contrast to Saranac Lake where a reading of 18 was reported, the lowest in the state.

The U. S. Weather Bureau in Albany, meanwhile, said more frost and freezing conditions due for the state tonight, with temperatures ranging between 26 and 35 degrees.

A warming trend was noted for Friday.

The AP said eight other upstate readings were below freezing. Killing frost slashed at the state's orchards and farm crops.

A 20.8 reading at Ithaca was 11 degrees colder than the record for the date set back in 1923.

Cancer Research and Treatment Lectures Heard by 75 Yesterday

A group of medical men distinguished in cancer research and treatment lectured Wednesday afternoon at the Governor Clinton Hotel as a feature of Cancer Teaching Day.

These sessions were followed by a dinner in the evening at which the principal speaker was Col. Hugh Gilmore, curator of the Medical Museum of the Armed Forces Institute of Pathology.

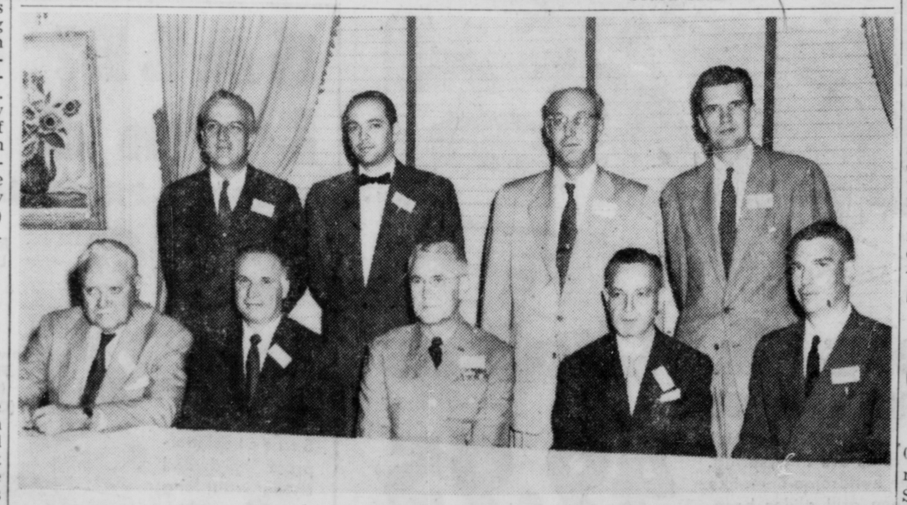

Approximately 75 persons attended the sessions, sponsored by the Ulster County Medical Society in conjunction with the New York State Medical Society, New York State Department of Health and the American Cancer Society.

Speakers at the afternoon sessions were Dr. Michael Deddish, chief of rectal service at Memorial Hospital, New York city, Dr. Sidney Rubenfeld, director of radiation therapy at Bellevue Hospital, New York city, Dr. Chester M. Southam, associate in medicine at Memorial Center, New York city, Dr. Gray H. Twombley, professor of gynecology at New York University Bellevue Medical Center, and Dr. Mortimer B. Lipsett, assistant in medicine at Memorial Hospital.

Dr. Deddish pointed out the value of thorough examination of the colon, both routinely and when any symptoms are present in reference to that organ. He demonstrated that thoroughness is the keynote of success in discovering early cancer when it can be treated successfully.

Dr. Rubenfeld discussed the ever-widening applications of radioactive isotopes and increasing availability of these materials and called attention to the fact that although they are in their infancy, both as aids to diagnosis and definitive treat-

Trooper Denies Angle Of Suicide in Court

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., May 24 (AP)—A defense lawyer at the murder trial of Wells Van Steenbergh unsuccessfully attempted today to have a state trooper say that suicide was considered during investigation of the death of Mrs. Lloyd H. Beresford.

Several times during a morning-long cross-examination of Trooper Emmett F. Donahue in Dutchess County Court, the attorney, Henry Hirschberg, asked if such a possibility was mentioned in reporting on the case.

Donahue, who is attached to the Crime Investigation Bureau, denied ever making such a suggestion.

Van Steenbergh, 21, is accused of having slain Mrs. Beresford, 38, by setting fire to her clothing in her Staatsburg home last Oct. 28.

The last of several statements which the University of Bridgeport freshman allegedly gave police was admitted in evidence yesterday.

The statement said: Van

Ghost Trains Predicted

Ann Arbor, Mich. (AP)—"Ghost" trains operating without crews may run the railroads of the future. Speakers at the second annual Railroad Management Seminar at the University of Michigan said crewless trains have been operated by electronics for up to 10 miles on a trial basis. But the perforated tape that masterminds the operation is likely to be restricted to freight yard operations for the next several years.

High Falls Woman Enjoys Jet Age, Glamour of WAF

The jet age proved a lure to Airman 3/C Anne Elayne Walter, 20, of High Falls, a member of the WAF now serving as a control tower operator at the sprawling Andrews Air Force Base, Md.

With the pleasant appearance and good looks which have made American women famous, Miss Walter represents the best of what all the branches of service are looking for today in their recruitment programs.

Happy in her job, Miss Walter is alert, stable and possesses another virtue of level-headedness and quick-thinking which classifies her job as "critical" since these virtues are necessary in her assignment.

ALTHOUGH SHE describes herself as "happy" with her job, she has a goal—to go abroad. Miss Walter says she will reenlist only if she is promised a European assignment. Chances are her wish will be granted.

Overseas assignment is naturally one of the glamorous attractions which draw a number of women into the WAF and other branches of the service. Nearly a third of the women in the Army are stationed at military bases abroad, it is reported, and a small contingent of WAVES and Women Marines are assigned overseas.

OPPORTUNITY to travel has overshadowed the military discipline and inspections of service life, although she admits the latter have done her some good.

Miss Walter is receiving invaluable experience as a control tower operator, a position of attractiveness to civilian airlines. She realizes a similar job "on the outside" would be more lucrative but she prefers to work with military aircraft.

Half the planes which operate at her base are jets and their speed and maneuverability have a particular fascination for her in contrast to civilian planes which she describes as "pokey and dull by comparison."

THE HIGH FALLS girl is a recruiter without portfolio for her branch of service since her reasons for being there coincide with those of hundreds of women in the Air Force, Army, Navy and Marines.

She admits to few responsibilities as far as rent, food and paying bills goes. And, as she also confesses, the Air Force provides the one-type dress she wears daily. "I only have to spend money for party clothes," she says.

HER AIRMAN'S pay is approximately $100 a month. Entertainment expenses are negligible since she "goes out on a number of dates."

A recruitment poster could not tell a better story for the WAF than Miss Walter.

ECONOMY OF OPULENCE

An economic writer, Sylvia Porter, devoted a recent column to something she called the "economy of opulence." The tendency toward such an economy, she said, is a striking new development in the United States.

"It was only 25 years ago," Miss Porter wrote, "that ours was a stark 'economy of scarcity.' It was only 10 years ago that we dared aim at an 'economy of abundance.' And now the target is an 'economy of opulence.'"

To support her thesis, the writer noted that consumers are raising their material standards of living. Statistics show that though the number of houses being built this year is running well behind last year, the amount being spent on housing is only a little less because people are buying bigger and more expensive houses. In the ailing automobile industry, a bright spot is the brisk sales of deluxe models. Department stores are selling more of their more expensive articles.

It must not be supposed that everyone in this country is now heading for a so-called economy of opulence. A great many of us would be satisfied with abundance, and significant numbers have still not emerged from a personal economy of scarcity.

Quite aside from all this, however, it might be well to devote a few second thoughts to the question whether something called an economy of opulence is really desirable. From our own selfish standpoint, it might be eminently so. Considered in relationship to a world hungering for necessities, however, luxury without limit may be a bad thing for America. To hundreds of millions, our standard of living already is beyond their wildest dreams. Our obligation to help those millions may well take precedence over development of an economy of opulence for ourselves.

DEFENDERS OF PURITY

Midway in the 20th century, we in the United States have such confidence in the purity and quality of foods and drugs that we rarely give the matter much thought. It is an effort to realize that this was once a prime consideration when one ventured forth to supply the household.

Time was when the housewife had to have a watchful eye for contaminated or adulterated food and drugs. Before the turn of the century, shopping for such items was by no means the relatively carefree task that it has become. Guarantees of purity and quality could not be taken at face value. Few manufacturers listed their ingredients on labels. The unwary buyer was likely to get stung.

The situation has changed because of the pure food and drug laws, which became effective half a century ago. The Post Office Department is issuing a special stamp honoring the 50th anniversary of their enactment. The stamp will depict a man whose name, Harvey W. Wiley, is scarcely remembered today.

Yet Wiley's portrait will fittingly decorate the anniversary stamp, for it was he who led the fight for enactment of the pure food and drug laws. He dramatized the need for such laws by persuading volunteers—who became known as "Wiley's poison squad"—to eat contaminated foods and report the results. We all still benefit in great measure because of the efforts of these men and their leader.

DIRECT APPROACH

Somewhere in Minnesota there is a driver who is wiser than he was before the incident we are about to mention. Early one morning, the driver was stopped at a crossing by a long freight that had just pulled into the yards. He hopped out and uncoupled two of the cars, figuring that when the engine pulled ahead most of the train would stay behind and the crossing would be opened.

What actually happened was that automatic emergency brakes took hold and the train was stalled for nearly two hours.

Knowing this makes the motorist wiser. If the police catch up with him, he will also be sadder and perhaps even poorer.

Moral: Don't monkey with the machinery unless you know how it works.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

THE HARD FIST

In his famous Birmingham speech, Nikita Khrushchev said:

"I should like to remind those who shake a fist at us that this method has already been tried. As the saying goes in our country: 'You can't leave a word out of a song,' the truth must be told straight to the face. After the October Revolution many came to our country shaking their fists. In the north the fist-shaking was done by the British invaders, in the east by the American and Japanese, in Odessa by the French invaders, and in the Ukraine by the Germans. But the Russian people, defending their country, kicked out both the foreign and their own invaders. Hitler also tried to attack us, with clenched fists, but you know what came of it. Which means that the fist method is not suitable in our case."

This is not quite correct as history. The first part deals with the years 1917-20 before the Soviet government had established itself in the whole of Russia. I can recite some of that history from personal observation because I was in Russia, in Siberia and in China in those years, moving about with considerable freedom.

It was then American policy to prevent Japan from occupying Manchuria and Siberia from Vladivostok to Chita. So we sent over some troops and engineers to run the Maritime Provinces sector of the Trans-Siberian Railroad. A number of Czechs who had been prisoners of war in Russia had marched across the country and had become situated in Chita. They were eventually taken out of Siberia by the Americans and returned to Czechoslovakia.

Attaman Semenov, the White Russian Cossack, was stationed at Manchuli from which he was conducting raids into Siberia and Mongolia. Baron Ungern-Sternberg, a Balt, was setting up a Buddhist kingdom at Urga with himself as a sadistic ruler. At Ufa, a pro-Soviet government, ostensibly independent, was being established which was ultimately recognized as the government of Eastern Siberia. As soon as that situation was stabilized, the Ufa government capitulated to Lenin's government, Attaman Semenov and Admiral Kolchak were defeated and disappeared from history, but what made that possible was the defeat of the Japanese by Siberian partisans at Nikolaievsk (1920) and the heavy Siberian frost which resulted in sentries being found turned into ice over-night.

Had it not been for the American intervention, Japan could have and would have taken Manchuria and the Maritime Provinces of Siberia in 1918. That would have changed the whole course of Russian and Far Eastern history, because it is doubtful if, in the circumstance of those years, Soviet Russia could have mustered sufficient strength to dislodge the Japanese, particularly as, at that time, the peoples of these areas were prevailingly non-Russian. As a matter of fact, it was because of the danger of further Japanese intervention prior to 1925 that the Soviet government encouraged Russian migrations to Siberian areas and tried eventually to establish the Jewish Republic of Biro-Bidjan in one of the least liveable parts of this country, around the city of Khabarovsk.

As to the World War II reference in Khrushchev's speech, he omits the fact that Hitler did not shake his fist at Russia when the war started; that, in fact, Hitler and Stalin were allies and their alliance was based on the Ribbentrop-Molotov Pact, one of the most outrageous documents in human history, designed to enslave whole peoples. When Hitler turned on Stalin, it was the United States that came to Stalin's rescue because of the precarious position of Great Britain. The generosity of Harry Hopkins produced $11,000,000,000 of the American taxpayer's money for Stalin, so that in due course, it was American machinery and American credits which laid the foundation for Soviet Russia's present advanced industry.

Also, it needs to be remembered that the Russians managed to steal many American blueprints, not only of the atomic bomb but of other scientific and engineering developments, and whereas they have done very well with what they have stolen, it was a theft of our heritage and the least they can do is be thankful for what they got by thievery.

Instead of shaking a fist at Russia, we saved Russia at least twice. Apparently there is no gratitude among the Slavs.

BLEEDING GUMS

It may come as a surprise to many of us to learn that pyorrhea is by far the major cause of tooth loss in individuals over 35 years of age. Sometimes the disease may progress and show very little symptoms but the characteristic signs are inflammation and bleeding of the gums. Inflammation of the gums is present in some degree in most persons who eat chiefly soft and cooked foods and gums may bleed from reasons other than pyorrhea such as tartar on the teeth, injury, improper coming together of the teeth in a bite, food impaction, and ill-fitting dentures.

Sometimes bleeding gums may be a sign of some serious general disorder such as scurvy, pellagra, diabetes, leukemia, hemophilia, pregnancy, allergy, poisoning from lead, bismuth or mercury, and various debilitating diseases. From this partial listing it can be seen that, especially when the bleeding has persisted for several months, as is the case with many patients seen in the physician's practice, complete medical studies, supplemented by a careful dental survey should be undertaken.

An editorial in the Journal of the American Medical Association mentions the case of a woman whose gums had bled for two years. Two physicians had prescribed vitamins, which did not stop the bleeding. Another physician suggested that she might have a blood abnormality and recommended blood examinations. No one, however, suggested a dental survey. Another woman whose gums had also bled for two years was advised to submit to a variety of procedures, including tonsillectomy, none of which was effective. Meanwhile, because of her unsightly mouth she shunned human society and because of the persistance of the trouble, a morbid fear of cancer developed. Again, no one suggested a dental consultation.

"Both these cases illustrate the fact that, despite repeated admonitions to 'see your dentist twice a year,' a physician cannot take for granted that his patients, even those with the most urgent need to consult a dentist, have done so. The alert physician can better serve his patient at times by recommending a dental survey and the dentist can often reciprocate, in that he may be the first to have the opportunity to observe evidence in the mouth of conditions that require a complete medical checkup. The concept of treating the patient as a whole sometimes must include dental service as well as medical attention."

Here again we see the team method of approach to the illnesses of mankind. First it may be a team of medical specialists, then it will grow to include other professions such as dentistry and social service. Man is such a complex being; he needs help from many sources.

"His Unscientific Name Is 'Farm Vote'"

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington—(NEA)—"Asia Week" in Washington was being celebrated by the arrival of President Sukarno of Indonesia for a 17-day visit of state and the windup of a month's tour of six U. S. university cities by ten professors, intellectuals and cultural leaders from ten South and Southeast Asian countries.

These two events mark serious efforts to prove untrue the Kippling line about "East is East and West is West and never the twain shall meet."

President Sukarno, father of his country, will visit the shrines of his heroes — Paul Revere, Thomas Jefferson and Abraham Lincoln.

The ten Asian professors are here to study what differences and misunderstandings there are between East and West, what interests they have in common and how the two areas might be brought closer together. Their visit is under the auspices of U. S. Commission for UNESCO —the United Nations Educational, Social and Cultural Organization.

ALL OF THE VISITORS speak English — their one common language—and most have been in the United States before.

Dr. V. R. K. Rao, director of the Delhi, India, School of Economics, finds that great changes have taken place in the United States. The last time he was here, he says he was frightened by McCarthyism. People were afread to talk to him freely.

Now, he says, American democracy has overcome this fear. It has made a great impression on him. Dr. Rao makes clear that he is talking about McCarthyism and not about the senator—who might be on vacation or in a hospital. Anyway, he isn't heard from, and McCarthyism is dead, says the Indian.

One other big change that has taken place says D. Rao, is that the American people no longer test the friendship of Asians by their willingness to join military alliances. The test of friendship today, says Dr. Rao, is whether the Asian countries exercise true democracy and meet their peoples' need.

DR. RAO SAYS he is going back to India greatly comforted and reassured that the United States may still become the moral leader of the world — which it is not today.

Several of the Asians express their doubts about American industrialization as a blessing for all the people. Prof. Mian Mohammed Sharif of Ismalia College, Lahore, Pakistan, talks about this. He says that even in Boston he found a difference of opinion between Harvard and Massachusetts Institute of Technology professors with whom he talked. Some said they thought the American people were happier now than they used to be. Some said they weren't.

Dr. Rao says he things the United States is trying to overcome the evils of industrialization. Human relations are improved. Concentration of economic power is checked. Factories and big department stores are being decentralized to smaller towns and suburbs. In 40 or 50 years he thinks American society will have a different look.

IN SPITE OF all the disadvantages of industrialization which he mentions—ulcers, the parking problem, the dynamism of demand in which he is not interested—Dr. Rao says India has decided to industrialize. It is doing this to help a majority of its people get enough to eat.

As for what Americans think about Asians, Dr. G. P. Malasekara, professor of Asian studies at University of Ceylon and president of the World Association of Buddhists, says there is a great misunderstanding.

He finds that most Americans believe the Asians aren't concerned enought about their own welfare. It is a misconception, he says, to think that Asians are lackadaisical fatalists. It is a misconception for Americans to believe that oriental philosophies will keep Asians from taking advantage of modern scientific developments.

Canned tomatoes help to make a meat loaf juicy; whole kernel corn added to the meat mixture will give flavor interest.

Ruling on Railroad Union Held Blow to State Rights

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, May 24 — The most unspectacular and yet the most sensational news-happening of our times is the manner in which the 48 state governments are being deprived of their rights by the Supreme Court of the United States.

The latest decision, rendered this week, takes away from the states their power to regulate employment relations. It takes away from the worker his freedom of expression as an individual — his civil rights — and puts them at the mercy of an intolerant majority in Congress. He must join a union or be deprived of a job with the railroads. Minority rights, which from the foundation of the republic have been safeguarded by the Constitution, now are to be vested in a political majority in Congress.

Justice Frankfurter, who wrote an opinion concurring in the decision, makes no bones about it—he virtually acknowledges that the Supreme Court is a political body which changes its views with the whims of popular opinion and he lauds this as a virtue.

IN DISCUSSING the 60-year history of the fight for and against compulsory unionization, Mr. Frankfurter reviews the criticisms against early court decisions and traces the various opinions handed down. Then he says:

"The change in the court's understanding of industrial problems, certainly as they affect railroads in their bearing upon the country's commerce and all that thereby hangs, to no small degree reflected the changed attitude of the railroads toward the role of labor unions in the discharge of the functions of the railroads. As striking evidence as any of this important shift in opinion is the fact that the Railway Labor Act of 1926 came on the statute books through agreement between the railroads and the railroad unions on the need for such legislation."

Here is a confession that the Supreme Court nowadays doesn't consider what the Constitution says, but what private interests, powerful in politics, may agree upon as between themselves. The famous "code authority" provision of the National Recovery Act, which permitted agreements to be made between management and labor, was struck down by a unanimous opinion of the Supreme court in 1935 precisely because the nine justices believed the public interest was greater under the Constitution than any agreements made between private interests such as labor and management even though Congress sanctioned those agreements.

Mr. Frankfurter, however, feels that if employers in an industry get together with labor unions to form a job monopoly and decide to deprive any one of a job unless he belongs to a union, this is a worthy objective. He hints that he would uphold the constitutionality of a law on that particular provision if it came before him. But he claims for the record, of course, that the Supreme Court "put to one side" such situations in the case decided this week.

ACTUALLY, IT was before the court, but the nine justices chose technical grounds for shutting their eyes to the issue altogether. It is plain to see the handwriting on the wall—minority rights are vanishing, and whatever law Congress decides to enact hereafter to regulate employment relations will become "the supreme law of the land" in the eyes of the present court.

In writing the main opinion, Justice Douglas in behalf of the other justices says: "Congress, acting within its constitutional powers, has the final say on policy issues. If it acts unwisely, the electorate can make a change."

But when the Supreme Court endows Congress with greater power than the Constitution bestows and euphemistically calls it just a "policy," the electorate can't change their Supreme Court. Unless, therefore, the court, whose judges now concede that they are influenced by the pressures of popular opinion, takes heed of public criticism, certain constitutional rights will be lost for the period that an unwise or irresponsible court holds office.

"ONE WOULD have to be blind to history," says Justice Douglas, "to assert, that trade unionism did not enhance and strengthen the right to work."

This is a frank avowal of the concept of expediency — the Machiavellian doctrine that the end justifies the means. Other justices—the men who made the Supreme Court the respected institution it has been for decades—did not fall victim to political expediency. They expounded the Constitution in accordance with legal, and not political concepts and never allowed Congress to grant permissive power to private economic groups to take away minority rights. It was in May, 1935, when a unanimous court headed by Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes knocked out the expediency argument by declaring: Extraordinary conditions do not create or enlarge constitutional power."

And the same court could properly have added that a change in political or sociological conditions or in the tides of public opinion does not change the Constitution of the United States unless Congress by a two-thirds vote of both houses and three-fourths of the states of the Union say so in approving an amendment to the Constitution itself.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, May 23— Victor Riesel has exhorted Congress to investigate some aspects of the union movement. There is a widespread assumption that the attack with acid which put out his eyes was made or procured by either Communists or underworld racketeers of the union forces. It is a notorious fact that both Reds and crooked unioneers resort to violence and acid is a favorite weapon of terrorists in the garment trades in which he is a specialist.

Another congressional investigation would not be likely to do any good. There have been many such already and I gave testimony in two of them which has never been refuted or even disputed. In the first case, Congressman Sam Hobbs, of Alabama, was showing up spectacular looting by union extortioners on government construction jobs for the war "effort." Locals of the construction trades around the country were charging initiation fees of as mush as $300 as the price of jobs on new barracks and factories. The Roosevelt administration approved this. The hod-carriers and common laborers' racket, a defiant mob with ramifications all over the country, was charging $50 initiation and $5 a week dues. Other "initiations" and dues varied and new men were laid off and chased away as soon as they had paid their initiation fees in installments, making room for new suckers.

Mr. Hobbs patiently amassed an enormous and terrible record which Eleanor Roosevelt wrote off with a casual remark that of course irregularities were likely to occur in any such massive effort.

One gang in the District of Columbia and in nearby Maryland came under indictments, but the prosecuting attorney was drafted to Japan to assist one of the attorneys for the defense in the prosecution of "war criminals." Nothing ever came of the indictments. However, one of the defendants who had run away to sea to escape the draft and criminal prosecution on the racketeering charge was reported to have been knifed or otherwise liquidated in a purely social situation in Australian waters. When I gave my testimony, Roy Howard's Washington Daily News published the story, with art, under heads and cut-lines so abusive that, although I was then working for Scripps-Howard, I telephoned the late George B. Parker, the editor in chief, that this was libelous and demanded satisfaction. Mr. Parker said the journalists who had done this were terminating their connection with the paper, so why not let it go? So we let it go.

*ki?fl Mtoieaair,

The files will show that the treatment of this congressional investigation reflected apathy and tolerance of outrage not only by the press generally but by the government and the public.

Some of Riesel's friends have said that the crime against him is worse than murder, but that is not the law of the land. Blinding by acid is mayhem and the law holds that murder is worse. And murder has been so frequent and so little resented that it has become a tolerated prerogative of unioneers.

However, if the mayhem on Mr. Riesel should arouse public opinion when so many murders and frightful beatings have made no impression, then his sacrifice will have been suffered pro bono publico. In that case, possibly those who have offered to contribute toward a "reward" fund of $45,000 would be willing to give their money to Riesel as a stake in life.

In the other congressional "investigation" I discovered that the subcommittee of the House Committee on Education and labor was loaded with congressmen who were professional unioneers in their home towns. One, representing Harry Truman's home district, had a batch of charters for locals of the same Hod-Carrier's Union referred to. There were riots at his union meetings and he boasted that his loyal subjects insisted on providing him with two new Cadillacs for his convenience in Washington.

The chairman of the subcommittee, a lawyer from Indianapolis, had built up a profitable practice in suing big unions on behalf of little locals. He had received $80,000 in one case in which he represented a Baltimore local of the carpenters against against the international. The grand headquarters of the carpenters and the printers are in Indianapolis and the teamsters, the biggest jack-pot union of them all, also had its headquarters there at that time. The chairman wanted the names and addresses of individuals who had protested to me against persecution by big unions. He also wanted their letters with the particulars. It seemed to me to be no part of my duty as a witness to put information of such potential value into the hands of a specialist in that kind of law who might be returning to private practice one year later—and did. Moreover, the boss unioneers were watching and these individuals faceless men would have been hurt for squealing to me.

However, there was one witness, a New York needle-worker, Helen Kulesha, who nailed Dave Dubinsky's union. She pursued her grievance alone and licked Dubinsky singlehanded in the Small Claims Court of the City of New York. The professional unioneers of congress who wandered in and wandered out all day sneered it all away as being too petty to deserve their interest. So it was. After all, nobody broke her leg or skull or blew her head off. So it was a petty affair, measured by Gore, although the deprivation of human rights by Dubinsky's union was as grave and dramatic as the chairman legitimately could have wished.

No further congressional "investigation" is necessary.

The disposition is all that is lacking and that politico-spiritual phenomenon may never occur in our time.

Cool Air Spreads Across Northern Areas

It was overcoat weather this morning in most of the northern sections of the country from the midwest to New England.

Skies cleared and temperatures tumbled as cool air from Canada spread across the middle Mississippi valley, the Ohio valley, the Great Lakes region and into New England. Readings were as much as 25 degrees lower than 24 hours earlier.

Temperatures were in the 30s and 40s in most of the frosty belt and below freezing along the northern border. Low marks included 19 degrees in Pellston and Grand Marais, Mich.

While the northern areas shivered, mild and clear weather prevailed in the gulf and south Atlantic coastal states. Little change in temperature, with cloudy skies, was reported west of the Rockies and the northern and central plains. Showers fell in the northern and central Rockies and in the Pacific northwest.

Columbus' voyages to the World were in 1492, 1493 and 1494 (same voyage), 1498, and 1502.

Ask U.S. to Throw Out Chief Soviet Delegate

Washington, May 24 (AP)—Senate investigators urged the state department today to throw out of this country Arkady Sobolev, chief Soviet delegate to the United Nations, and one of his top subordinates.

The Senate Internal Security Subcommittee made the request in accusing Sobolev's staff of using "coercion, force and duress" in an effort to induce nine Russian sailors to return to their Communist homeland after obtaining asylum in this country.

Five of the sailors suddenly left New York by plane on April 7, under Soviet escort. Dispatches from Russia quoted them as saying they went home voluntarily. Four associates who remain here said they were coerced.

The subcommittee rebuked the state department and the immigration service, saying they failed to take effective action to protect the youthful sailors from being whisked out of the country.

It said there were no "realistic efforts" to learn whether duress was used on the sailors and that unjustified concessions were made "in response to Soviet pressures and truculence."

Secret testimony made public by the subcommittee as part of its report disclosed government officials learned of the seamen's impending return to Russia the night before but concluded there was no evidence then to warrant blocking their departure.

The five seamen were among nine crewmen of the Soviet tanker Tuapse who were granted asylum in this country last October after their ship, bound for Red China with a load of jet fuel, was captured by Chinese Nationalists on Formosa.

In recent hearings, the subcommittee heard testimony from the four crewmen still here and from others indicating that the five who "redefected" to the Soviet Union were kidnaped by Soviet agents.

The subcommittee urged the expulsion of Sobolev and Konstantin Ekimov, first secretary of the Soviet UN delegation.

Jaycees Will Aid VietNamProgram

The Kingston Junior Chamber of Commerce has voted to contribute money to defray the expenses of a physician and nurse for one week in South Viet Nam to further the work of "Operation Brotherhood."

It was also announced today that the Kingston Jayncees, an auxiliary to the local chamber, were officially presented their charter at the auxiliary state convention in Binghamton last weekend.

THE SOUTH Viet Nam movement is sponsored by the International Rescue Committee and the Junior Chamber of Commerce International to set up a medical assistance program for the 11 million persons of that country, including 800,000 refugees who fled from northern Viet Nam to escape the Communists.

Prior to "Operation Brotherhood" the entire population was served by only 130 Vietnamese doctors. Since the medical assistance program began doctors, nurses and dentists have been treating over 30,000 patients a month.

In a recent message President Eisenhower said, "I am happy to give my warm support and endorsement to 'Operation Brotherhood.' Such action as yours for free Viet Nam will play an important roll in maintaining and strengthening freedom in Asia. I urge my fellow Americans to join in this great effort."

THE LOCAL Jayncees received their charter at the annual state convention May 18-19 at Binghamton. At the regular auxiliary meeting the charter was presented by Mrs. Bert Jordano of Poughkeepsie, retiring president.

Those attending the state convention from this city were Mrs. Robert MacKinnon and Mrs. Chester Diffley.

Old Bill . . .

figure conceded they were not too hopeful. They were beaten last year on an identical move, 44-38.

THE BANKING committee in writing the bill called for a return to the goal of the 1949 act on public housing—810,000 units.

About 300,000 units have been built so far. Thus the bill would provide for about 500,000 more, at the rate of 135,000 per year, but with authority for the President to set it as low as 50,000 or as high as 200,000 in any year.

OTHER MAJOR features of the bill would:

Liberalize credit terms for private housing for elderly persons, with FHA insurance up to 100 per cent of the loans, permission for co-signers on notes, and down payments as low as $200.

Provide 75,000 public housing rental units for the elderly over a 5-year period, in addition to the regular units.

Raise the ceiling on FHA home improvement loans from $2,500 to $3,500 and extend the repayment period from three to five years.

AUTHORIZE an additional three billion dollars in FHA home loan insurance, to try to keep the homebuilding industry at a high level.

Provide an additional three billions of FHA insurance authority for military housing units on military posts, to permit construction of 200,000 more apartments.

PROVIDE AN additional 100 million dollars in capital grants to cities engaged in slum clearance projects.

Authorize 450 million dollars of direct government loans for farm home construction in the next five years.

Boost the revolving fund for college housing loans from 500 to 750 million dollars.

Urban Route

at placing under contract $30 million in urban contracts in upstate New York. This will be twice as much money as has been devoted to upstate arterials in any year since the start of the program."

Johnson told the Newburgh group that a tentative line for the rerouting of Route 6 from Port Jeryis across Orange county to the projected Newburgh-Beacon bridge, and to the Connecticut border near Brewster, is being prepared.

Stockholders Take Over

Detroit, May 24 (AP) — Ford Motor Co.'s parent plant in nearby Dearborn was closed to routine sightseers today; plant tours were restricted to some 3,000 new stockholders registered for the first annual meeting since Ford became a publicly-owned corporation. The new shareholders are part of an estimated 325,000 persons who bought stock in the 53-year-old company last January when the Ford Foundation placed 10,200,000 shares on public sale.

Three Calls Checked

Firemen were called at 1:15 p. m., today to check a fire in some paper at the Katz junk yard, off lower Hasbrouck avenue. Cornell station answered. A call at 8:45 p. m., last night was for a brush fire off Gilead street, with Wiltwyck station responding, and one at 10:47 p. m., was for a fire in some old mushroom trays along the High Road. Union and Cordts hose companies responded.

Financial and Commercial

New Yoork, May 24 (AP)—Prices headed lower in the Stock Market early this afternoon following a feeble attempt at a rally.

Leading issues lost from fractions to around 2 points. Trading activity speeded a bit as stocks lost ground.

The market's latest decline followed a mixed opening and then a flicker of rising prices, which expired almost as soon as it appeared.

Volume for the day was estimated at a little more than two million shares.

News of Interest to Fraternal Organizations

A regular meeting of Charles DeWitt Council, 91, JOUAM, will be held Friday at 8 p. m. at Mechanics' Hall, 14 Henry street. A full attendance of members is anticipated. A social hour with refreshments will follow the business meeting.

The regular meeting of Clinton Chapter 445, Order of the Eastern Star, will be held at Masonic Temple, Friday at 7:45 p. m. The Floral Degree will be given in honor of the worthy matron and worthy patron, and the altar will be draped in memory of deceased members.

Following the business session, refreshments will be served.

All Eastern Stars and Master Masons are invited.

Twice as many people are ill during March as during July.

May Talk . . .

East St. James street, if the original plan is not altered.

RECENT STATE legislation opened the way for addition of the viaduct and bridge problems.

Before action was taken to gain this legislation, a hearing was conducted by the State Public Service Commission on the viaduct proposal. This closed "without prejudice" so that it could be reopened at any time.

The hearing closed to wait out the requested legislative action, and it was learned after Corporation Counsel James J. Abernethy bid for reopening of the hearing, that it is expected to be delayed until the state public works department announces its definite plans.

ELIMINATION of the viaduct calls for re-establishing at grade, the crossings of the New York Ontario and Western and New York Central railroads. Each line is on minimum schedule of trains, and this fact would allow for signal control of train traffic.

It is understood that a PSC order would be necessary to permit re-establishment of the crossings at grade, and some type of hearing will probably be held after full plans are announced by the public works department.

Another plan to facilitate movement of traffic in the uptown area may also be considered in conjunction with, if not as part of, the arterial route plan, Mayor Frederick H. Stang revealed this week. That would be the building of another road eastward off Washington avenue from a point near Hurley avenue to connect with the uptown shopping district.

Central Facing

are to eliminate their big annual passenger deficits, the Central president said.

HE ESPECIALLY cited tremendous costs of maintaining the huge passenger terminals like Grand Central Terminal which, Perlman said, costs the Central seven million dollars a year in taxes—"taxes on property devoted to losing money."

In Buffalo, N. Y., he added, it costs the Central more than three million dollars a year to operate its station and $274,000 of that is in taxes. But the road sells less than three million dollars worth of tickets per year in Buffalo, Perlman said.

IT COSTS the railroad more than seven million dollars a year to operate the Cleveland Union Terminal, including $885,000 in taxes, he added, and only five million dollars worth of tickets are sold there annually.

Perlman added that while the Central is paying $2,400,000 interest on debt on the Cleveland terminal, the taxpayers of Cleveland are spending seven million dollars to expand their airport and the federal government is giving them another million dollars as a construction subsidy.

"Is it any wonder that we are working right now to find out how we can give away, sell or tear down passenger stations that cost us a fortune in taxes and maintenance?" Perlman asked.

"A marble palace may be a beauty to behold," he added, "and it may be a public monument in the eyes of some, but when it is a cancer eating away at your profits and the very stability of your investment, I say get rid of it."

Medical Society

occurring or artificially added.

The resolution noted that "approximately 90,000 citizens of Ulster county are anticipating an impartial opinion from the medical society," and for that reason the committee report was approved.

Doctors making the report were Herbert Derman, John Cooke, Bartholomew Dutto and Anthony Tocco. The committee was appointed several months ago by Dr. John Olivet as president of the medical society.

The report emphasized that the committee was concerned entirely with the medical safety and dental effectiveness of the process.

Phoenicia Woman Pickets Meeting

Albany, N. Y., May 24 (AP) — The annual New York Central stockholders meeting was picketed by a woman today.

Mrs. Harold B. Ring, of Phoenicia, paraded in front of the Palace Theatre entrance, contended that the railroad seven years ago had fenced off a 17-acre plot she and her husband wanted to use as a parking lot for the ski resort they operate in Phoenicia.

Mrs. Ring said both she and her husband are stockholders.

TB Patients

learn whether persons treated by drugs without hospitalization have later flare-ups of TB, and how frequently this may happen.

Occupancy of hospital beds for TB has decreased slowly since 1953, but this downward trend may be levelling off, he added.

"When the census (of bed occupancy) stays low and costs stay high, it is understandable that bodies which disburse funds begin to talk about discontinuing hospitals.

"But from the standpoint of both what we know and what we do not know about tuberculosis, we must guard against undue haste to close hospitals for fear that a reversal in trends may occur."

Joint Chiefs

whether such a visit now is under consideration.

An inquiry at the Russian Embassy brought a response that Marshal Sokolovsky, Soviet Army chief of staff, has invited Gen. Nathan F. Twining, U. S. Air Force chief of staff, to send a high level delegation of two or three officers to the celebration of Aviation Day in Russia on June 24.

This was reported by the office of Col. Philip Bachinsky, air attache of the embassy.

Police Checking

parked in gear, with the brake on and wheels to the curb, the report said.

At 6:10 a. m., Officers George Dougherty and John Frasch reported that the car of John J. Martin, of 196 Greenkill avenue, parked in front of that address, had rolled down hill, turned toward Wilbur avenue, and struck an abutment of the Wallkill Valley railroad bridge. The car had apparently been "left in gear," and was damaged on its front end, the report said.

Area Orchards

Many other readings were below freezing.

Oneonta residents shivered in 24-degree temperature. Record lows of 26 were established at Olean and Spencertown, Columbia county.

Albany's 33 lowered by four degrees the record for the date set in 1879 and was the lowest of the season since May 31, 1947. Syracuse's 33 was its lowest recorded for the date.

A vegetable farmer north of Albany reported temperature readings at 30 early today and said a one-eighth inch of ice was observed in asparagus freshening trays.

Other readings throughout the state were: Elmira and Massena, 29; Binghamton, 30; Watertown and Poughkeepsie, 31; Utica, 32; Rome and Buffalo, 33, and Geneva and Newburgh, 35.

The temperature at LaGuardia Airport, New York city, was 44.

Althea Gibson Wins

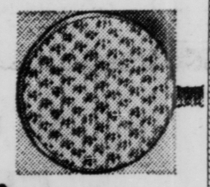

Paris, May 24 (AP)—Althea Gibson of New York came from behind in an unevenly played match today to enter the women's singles final of the French International Tennis Championships by defeating Angela Buxton of Britain, 2-6, 6-0, 6-4. Her opponent in the final will be Britain's Angela Mortimer, the defending champion and the only player to beat Miss Gibson this year. Miss Mortimer defeated Suzy Kormoczi of Hungary, 6-4, 6-3.

SUGGESTIONS MADE TO HELP ONE-WAY PLAN—In an appeal for public cooperation in the proper use of the one-way street system in the uptown area, Mayor Stang today outlined several suggestions for motorists and pedestrians to make the plan an even greater success. The mayor said he felt the one-way system has "enabled us to make better use of our city streets." He said the purpose of the system is to reduce traffic delays and congestion and provide greater safety. Reduction of delays and congestions, he felt, would encourage more people to trade in the city.

The mayor outlined these suggestions for motorists and pedestrians to make the plan more workable:

1. WATCH FOR ONE-WAY TRAFFIC SIGNS

Signs are posted at all intersections indicating the direction of travel. Look for these one-way traffic signs, be governed accordingly and avoid the embarrassment of going the wrong way on a one-way street.

2. USE ALL LANES

Under one-way operation, all lanes of the streets may and should be used. For example, on Clinton avenue the lane previously used by southbound traffic is now available to northbound traffic. By "doubling up" on all one-way streets where more than one lane is available, traffic can be moved more quickly and efficiently.

3. MAKE TURNS FROM PROPER LANES

Drivers desiring to turn from a one-way street should make sure that the car is positioned properly in the extreme left lane (for a left turn) or in the extreme right lane (for a right turn).

4. FAMILIARIZE YOURSELF WITH THE ONE-WAY STREET SYSTEM

Motorists may find some slight change necessary in their travel habits. Where previously a destination was approached from the north it may now be necessary to approach it from the south because the street is now one-way northbound. By learning the direction of travel of the streets the trip may be planned to reduce to a minimum any possible inconvenience.

5. OBSERVE CITY SPEED LIMITS

The purpose of one-way streets is to reduce delays—the purpose is not to increase speed. Observe the speed limit at all times. The speed limit in the city is 25 miles per hour.

6. COOPERATE WITH POLICE OFFICERS

Be alert to the directions of police officers stationed at intersections on the one-way network and be prompt to follow their instruction. They are there to help you and all motorists and pedestrians to reach your destination with minimum delays and maximum safety.

7. WATCH FOR PEDESTRIANS

While the one-way plan provides a safer traffic pattern for all, motorists should continue to be especially alert to avoid striking a pedestrian.

8. PARKING METERS

When using meters, place the coin in the meter at the front of your car.

Jail-Breaker Is Awaiting Jury Action on Murder

Mayville, N. Y., May 24 (AP)—A 32-year-old jail-breaker was back behind bars today after less than four desperate days of freedom during which he accidentally killed his companion in crime.

James T. Carter of Rochester was in the Chautauqua county jail awaiting grand jury action on a first degree murder charge in the death of John Dederick, 23, of Corning.

A 40-hour man hunt ended in a rural area near Jamestown yesterday when police found the exhausted, bare-footed Carter asleep under a pine tree.

He surrendered meekly. He had thrown three pistols away and lost his shoes in a swamp.

His first words when a policeman prodded him with a rifle to awaken him were: "Hey! Be careful, my feet hurt."

A mandatory plea of innocent was entered for Carter at his arraignment before Peace Justice A. Roy Perkins.

Authorities said the murder charge was placed against him because the apparently accidental shooting of Dedrick occurred during the commission of a felony.

Carter learned of Dedrick's death after his capture, although he was quoted by police as saying he knew that a bullet from one of his guns had struck Dedrick during a running gun battle wih police Monday night.

District Attorney Edwin O'Connor said the case would go to the summer term of Chautauqua county grand jury during the week of June 4.

Niagara Power Bill Won't Pass House: Miller

Washington, May 24 (AP)—A bill passed by the Senate permitting New York state to build new power plants at Niagara Falls "will not pass the House," Rep. Miller (R.-N.Y.) predicts.

Miller made the prediction yesterday when informed of Chairman Buckley's (D.-N.Y.) decision that the House public works committee would consider the bill "early next month."

"Very interesting," Miller said. "When and if the bill reaches the House floor we'll be ready. The bill will not pass the House."

Buckley indicated he has no intention of trying to amend the bill, particularly the disputed preference provision.

The provision provides that municipally owned electric systems, rural electric cooperatives and the like receive priority in the distribution of project power.

"The bill will be considered by our committee as it passed the Senate," Buckley told a reporter.

He was asked if he thought he had enough votes in the 34-member committee to send the bill to the House floor.

"I don't want to make any predictions on that score," he said.

Persons close to the committee, however, feel that Buckley would not attempt to bring the measures to the floor if he did not think he had the votes necessary for such action.

The measure, as passed by the Senate last Wednesday, was introduced by Sen. Lehman (D.-N.Y.). Buckley has introduced an identical bill in the House.

The fate of the measure, should it reach the House floor, is uncertain in view of the fact that the House, in 1953, passed a bill that gave the construction authority to five big private New York state utility companies. The bill died in the Senate.

NBC Re-Signs Durocher

Hollywood, May 24 (AP)—Leo (Lippy) Durocher, ex-baseball player-manager, has signed a new one-year contract as a National Broadcasting Co. executive. Durocher will continue to work primarily in the field of talent relations, NBC announced yesterday. Terms of the contract were not announced. The former manager lives in Beverly Hills with his wife, actress Laraine Day. He once was manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers and the New York Giants.

Mechanical Arms Developed for Job

Schenectady, N. Y., May 24 (AP)—A machine with mechanical arms and hands to work in radioactive areas has been developed by General Electric Co. engineers.

The company said yesterday the machine has two almost identical pairs of mechanical "arms and hands." An operator, at one point, straps his own arms and fingers into the mechanical arms and fingers. He then goes through the desired arm and fingers motions for the task at hand, such as pouring water or using a wrench or screwdriver.

A similar machine, at another point, duplicates the movements. The machines are connected. The operator can watch his work via a television hookup.

Briefly Told

Warrensburg, N. Y., May 24 (AP)—A former publisher of the Warrensburg News, a weekly newspaper, died at his home last night after a lengthy illness. Melvin J. Livingston also was a dry goods merchant here for 30 years. He was born in Lewis, about 60 miles north of here in the Adirondacks.

Binghamton, N. Y., May 24 (AP)—Harley F. Williams, 79, of Woodville, in Jefferson County, was found dead in his seat aboard a Greyhound bus last night when the bus arrived at the Binghamton terminal.

Police said he was enroute to his home from Florida and had slumped quietly in his seat shortly after the bus left Tunkhannock, Pa.

The body would have remained aboard the Syracuse-bound bus, police said, had not a woman across the aisle told the bus driver in Binghamton that Williams might be dead.

Troy, N. Y., May 24 (AP)—When a theater seat collapsed under James Testo, of Troy, he sued the theater operator, Joseph Stowell for $15,000.

A Rensselaer County Supreme Court heard the case yesterday, then got up to leave. As they did, the seat of one of the jurors collapsed.

The jury returned a no cause verdict.

Newburgh, N. Y., May 24 (AP)—New York plans to put up $2,200,000,000 over the next 13 years to finance its long-range, federal-state highway building program, Gov. Harriman's public works superintendent said last night.

John W. Johnson said the program called for a total expenditure of $4,300,000,000 by the state and federal government during the period.

Johnson spoke at the annual dinner of the Newburgh Automobile Club.

Albany, N. Y., May 24 (AP)—The State Dept. of Audit and Control has charged village trustees of East Syracuse with being lax in collecting delinquent taxes and with making purchases without required competitive bidding.

Department examiners also criticized the village for lack of adequate police records and the "haphazard" manner in which they were filed.

A report yesterday said that although competitive bidding is required for all purchases over $1,000, from 1953 to 1955 the trustees made 12 purchases, each costing over $1,000, without competitive bidding. Total cost of the 12 purchases was $30,573, the examiners said.

Found Guilty

New York, May 24 (AP) — A Federal Court jury took only 20 minutes yesterday to find a Broklyn man guilty of the $41,323 robbery of a Long Island bank last November. Abraham Nirenberg and three others were indicted on charges of robbing the State Bank of Suffolk County at Brentwood with a machine gun. The other three—Louis Soviero, 38, and Salvatore Catapano, 29, both of Brooklyn, and Charles Tomaiollo, 30, of the Bronx — go on trial tomorrow. After the jury's verdit, Judge Walter Bruchhausen ordered Nirenberg held pending sentencing June 7.

Tax-Fix Trial Halted

St. Louis, May 24 (AP)—The tax-fixing trial of two high officials of the Truman administration has been halted, temporarily at least, by the sudden illness of a third defendant, stricken after an appearance on the witness stand. Harry I. Schwimmer, attorney for tax evader Irving Sacks, became ill yesterday after testifying on a defense motion and was taken to a hospital. Schwimmer has suffered from a heart ailment. A physician said a preliminary examination indicated he suffered an "anginal attack" affecting the blood vessels leading to the heart.

Preserving Cranberries

It was the Indians who taught us how to preserve fresh cranberries. This was to keep the berries immersed in cold, clean water in crocks or jars. These berries were sufficiently well preserved to be palatable after several years, according to historians.

Borrow From Baby to Pep Up Family's Dishes

BABY WON'T MIND if you borrow a bit of his especially prepared food to add a touch of flavor to your own meal.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Last year, another record breaker, saw an estimated 4,091,000 babies delivered around the country at the rate of eight a minute. That's 11,208 spanking new infants a day. Topping the record of 4,076,000 births in 1954, all this seems to justify the annual salute to babies during May.

Look around today and you'll see more YOUNG mothers as well as more babies. A recent study showed that 30 per cent of the mothers of "first" babies are 19 years or under. Scarcely 20 years ago, that age bracket would have been 20 to 24 years.

College teen-agers are marrying, then graduating from baby-sitting to tending their own babies — often continuing their studies, too. Teen-age mothers seldom have to be reminded to "relax and enjoy your baby". Baby gets the cuddling, the affection that is just what the experts ordered for his daily well-being.

Modern mothers enjoy their babies. They make full use of simplified clothing, equipment and the ready-to-serve strained foods that have been developed especially for babies. One company that caters only to babies offers more than 70 products for infants and toddlers, including strained orange juice, egg yolks, teething biscuits. Nowadays nutritive dividends in baby foods are stressed more than time-saving, and quality-control experts constantly are studying greater retention of nutrients, true color and flavor.

Those young mothers often borrow a little of baby's delicacies to use in family dishes.

Orange-Peach Sauce
(Yield: 6 servings)

Blend together ½ cup strained orange juice, 1 cup junior peaches, ¼ cup brown sugar (packed), 2 teaspoons cornstarch, 1 teaspoon butter, ⅛ teaspoon cinnamon and a few grains of salt.

Cook over low heat until thickened, stirring constantly. Serve warm or cold. Delicious with custard, cottage pudding or ice cream.

Utility Agency Offers $100,000 In Essay Awards

A nationwide essay contest based on modern electrical living will offer approximately $90,000 worth of electrical appliances and $10,000 in cash awards to the winners.

The announcement was made at a meeting at the Governor Clinton Hotel this week by Frank Kitzmiller, manager of sales promotions of Edison Electric Institute, a trade association of the electric utility industry, which will sponsor the contest.

MORE THAN 200 electrical contractors from the area heard Mr. Kitzmiller describe the "Housepower" campaign and viewed a film on modern electrical living entitled "Meet Mrs. Swenson."

Joseph O'Connor, of Rosendale, president of the electrical contractors group, introduced Mr. Kitzmiller who described the industry's program for meeting the acute problems of inadequate wiring in an estimated 20,000,000 American homes.

Mr. Kitzmiller's presentation also included the use of slides to illustrate how the Edison Electric Institute's program will be carried out.

THE GROUP was also addressed by Robert B. Denhardt, manager of new business development of the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corp., who stressed how the "Housepower" program will be implemented in the local area.

Harris E. Dexter, vice president in charge of commercial relations for the local utility, completed the program by indicating the expected growth of the Mid-Hudson valley and what it will mean to the area's electrical contractors.

Attempt Means Attempt

Mexico City (AP)—The Mexican Supreme Court has ruled that a person can not be imprisoned for "attempted homicide" unless an actual attempt is proved. On an appeal, it freed Javier Rios Vergara of a 12-year sentence on such a charge. Vergara admitted he took part of a fee promised for killing a local official but said he really did not intend to go through with it. No evidence of an actual attempt was presented.

Against Death Penalty

Oneida, N. Y., May 24 (AP)—Abolition of capital punishment was urged last night by the leader of the mission of the Australian Methodist Church. The Rev. Dr. Allen Walker of Sydney, Australia, said society would be just as safe without capital punishment for criminals. Dr. Walker, who addressed the Central New York Conference of the Methodist Church, said also that some juvenile delinquency was caused by the violence of television and movies and news reports of killings and executions.

Sloboda, chairman; William Casal, representative; Northern, Clement Hulick, chairman, Harold Bender, representative; Mountain, George Loucks, chairman, Alfred O'Bryan, representative; Western, Harry Allen, chairman, Samuel Friedman, representative and Southern, Charles Smith, representative.

REPORTS WERE presented by chairmen of the following committees:

Robert A. MacKinnon, organization and extension; Richard C. Gendreau, Sr., advancement; Mr. Bourke, camp; Mr. Sheldon, health and safety; Dr. Ploss, leadership training, and Mr. Varney, finance.

In his report Mr. Dennis pointed out that J. Eugene Johnson had joined the Council last June as a field Scout executive. In November Frank Teel left the Council to go to Clifton, being replaced by Nelson L. Carter.

"Our secretarial staff has remained the same with Mrs. Janice Torrens and Miss Paricia Ann Bomer working harder and faster.

HE SAID the first six weeks of camp were filled, a seventh week had been opened and that was filling rapidly. Nineteen troops are coming to camp with their own leadership—four of them for two weeks each.

Mr. Dennis explained that due to poor coverage in the 1955 campaign there wasn't enough money to operate the Council for more than seven months. With careful planning and handling and by borrowing $1,200 from the camp development fund it was possible to operate for 10 months.

He said that a great challenge faces the new officers. "Let's pray they are men dedicated to do their job in scouting," he said, "which they have accepted and that all other Scouters will do their job whether it is a troop committeeman, assistant cubmaster, neighborhood commissioner or post adviser.

"We have come far along the Scouting trail in the past five years together—but there is so much farther to go before we can hear the words, 'Well done thou good and faithful servant.' We can't relax now and rest on our laurels. Each year more boys are available to our program, each year we must expand to take care of them. Along with our expansion in number of units and boys we must accelerate our training program, promote advancements and achievement program, expand our camp facilities, have more units, district and Council activities and make them better."

TROUBLE - CHUTING—Chaplain William G. DeVanny (arrow) and 1st Lt. Robert Pate of the 325th Airborne Infantry Rgt. of Fort Bragg, N.C., became entangled after jumping simultaneously from opposite sides of a C-119 Flying Boxcar at Fort Gordon, Ga. Neither man was injured. Chances for such a mishap were quoted as one in 2,000 jumps.

Named Brothers

The four Marx brothers (Chico, Harpo, Groucho, Gummo) were given their odd names by Art Fisher, a monologist, who watched their acts from the wings one day and promptly rechristened them.

New Operation Is Due for Sen. Ives

Washington, May 24 (AP) — Another operation is tentatively planned for June 1 on Sen. Ives (R-N. Y.).

His office said yesterday he would enter George Washington Hospital here next Tuesday.

Ives, 60, was operated on April 6 in Norwich, N. Y., for the removal of his appendix and "a non-malignant intestinal obstruction."

The June operation is described as "the second stage" of the first surgery. An intestinal loop that caused the obstruction will be removed, his office said.

Ives is expected to be in the hospital for about 10 days following the operation. After that, he has been informed, "about two weeks of recuperation at home" will be required.

$26,000 Realized In UJA Appeal

Cash donations and pledges totaling about $26,000, an increase of more than 27 per cent over the amount raised in 1955, have been received to date for the United Jewish Appeal and Welfare Fund, it was announced today.

In addition to the increased giving the workers on the campaign have successfully canvassed within the first five days of the official drive, a number of contributors equal to a normal five-week solicitation.

IT ALSO WAS pointed out that in addition to members of the Jewish community, many gifts have been received for the relief and rescue missions of the UJA from members of other faiths.

Several leading zone leaders from the Kingston and county area, meanwhile, were named this week to a sponsoring committee of emergency UJA conference to be held Sunday, May 27, at Grossinger's.

THEY INCLUDE Joseph Honig and Benjamin Schecter of Kingston, Abe Berenbaum, Kerhonkson; Benjamin Lonstein and Joseph Slutsky of Ellenville.

Sunday's conference, slated to start at 3 p. m., will be addressed by Max Lerner, journalist and educator and Uri Marinov, Israel frontier farmer.

Co-chairmen of the conference are Charles Brown of Loch Sheldrake and David Levensen of Ellenville.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

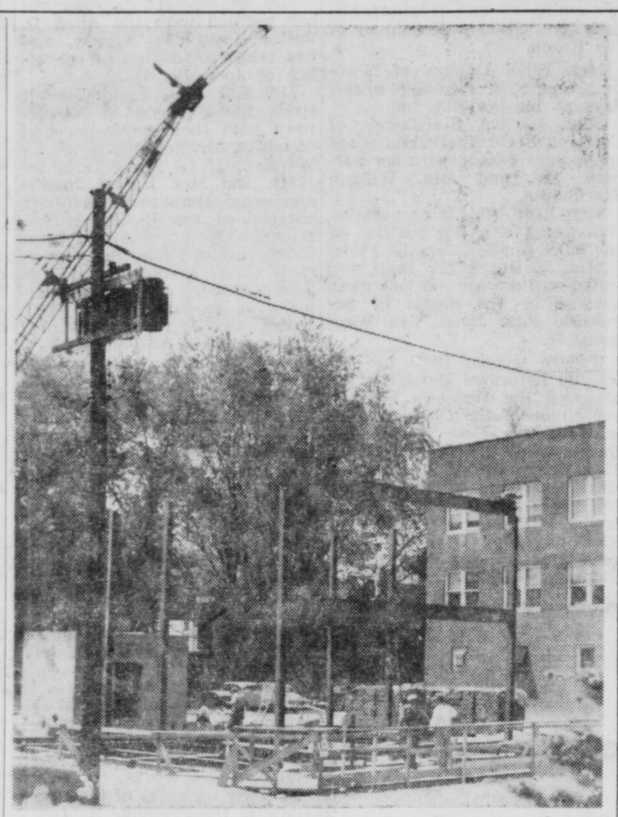

It has always been a mystery to me who carved the wooden Indians. I never ran across an item telling about any one-hand carver and artist who designed or made them. Each one is different, according to the imagination of the creative artist. In Kingston I remember one down by Schuster's cigar store at 43 East Strand. They used to make and sell cigar items, and my father used to send me down there for various items. I liked the aroma in the store, the dark cases and the small perpetual light for the cigar smokers. Mrs. Schuster was a great lace maker. In the evening she used to sit outside and make beautiful lace. I think she did tatting with a shuttle, as I remember. No doubt, many old timers remember Elizabeth and Philip Schuster. I remember they had this wooden statue outside and I used to stroke it because it was so smooth. I think there was another wooden Indian at Frank Byer's, also a cigar dealer and manufacturer, at 259 Fair street. As far as I remember it was one of those short wooden Indians. I know there were others around town. As time went on they vanished from the sidewalks.

No doubt folks who got the Sunday This Week magazine, of May 20, in The Herald Tribune saw the front cover all in colors showing the various wooden Indians and how each one is different. According to an article by C. D. Rice there are many of them down in Providence, R. I., which may be bought at a reasonable price, if in large lots of 50. I can see 50 wooden Indians arriving in Kingston.

I remember when antique buyers were looking for them and were willing to pay $100 for a wooden Indian. The article says "One hundred of the Haffenreffer redskin statues were recently sold in New York for a total price of $55,000," which shows how they went up in price. It is said that the redskins, known as the Haffenreffer Collection, are owned by the Narragansett Brewing Co. Foundation, a charitable, educational organization. It is hoped, according to Mr. Rice, that a museum or private collector will buy up the lot. Art experts consider good specimens as valuable examples of early American craftsmanship. Perhaps someone right around these parts used to make them.

Mr. Rice further states: "The wooden Indians are members of an age old tribe known as Trade Signs. In centuries past, when the average shopper could not read, merchants displayed actual objects to suggest their trade, such as a mortar and pestle for a pharmacy. Strangely, the cigar store Indian did not originate in America, but the English shopkeepers first displayed him as a trade sign in the 18th century, when tobacco, the Indians' invention for the white man, became popular over there. American storekeepers were quick to copy the wooden Indian. As time went on the statues were put on rollers so that they could be taken inside the shop at night. It is said, that Thayne Robertson, of Boise, Idaho, a wood-carver, is still carving them and has orders for months ahead. Incidentally there were also Indian wooden ladies. I remember from time to time the wooden Indians I knew received a fresh coat of paint and we used to admire them for quite some time afterwards.

The average freight locomotive consumes approximately one ton of coal for each seven miles of travel.

Watered Theft

Wenona, Ill. (AP) — Watered gasoline enabled Sheriff James Kvans to capture two youths who had been feeding their old model car on a farmer's gasoline supply for several months. Cyril Senninger reported the thefts, and Deputy Kenneth Kenyon suggested Senninger add five gallons of water to three gallons of gasoline in the tank used to supply fuel for farm machinery. The youths made their usual appearance, helped themselves but got only a mile away from the farm on the mixture.

39 Rebels Slain By French Troops

Algiers, Algeria, May 24 (AP)—French troops sweeping the Soummam River valley in northeastern Algeria ran headlong into a strong force of Algerian Nationalist rebels today and killed 39 of them, army headquarters reported.

Military dispatches said the rebels fled under French fire and 18 weapons were collected from those left dead or dying on the field. French casualties were not reported.

The sweep through the Soummam valley southwest of the coastal city of Bougie appeared a reprisal for a rebel attack yesterday on nearby Sidi Aich, where a school was burned and two young French school masters were kidnapped. In the same region last night, rebels blew up a metal bridge near Dadekar on the road to Tizi Ouzou, blocking all traffic.

Police conducted a mass security check in Algiers last night and arrested about 48 nationalist suspects.

Apology Demanded For Colorado Remarks

Colorado Springs, Colo., May 24 (AP)—Jack Mohler, editor and publisher of the Colorado Springs Free Press, demands an apology from Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, President Eisenhower's personal physician, for opposing a Colorado vacation for the President.

In a telegram sent to Snyder and reprinted in today's editions of The Free Press, Mohler said:

"Your irresponsible remarks concerning the effect of Colorado's mile-high altitude on heart victims have done our state and the President a great disservice."

Phone Witnesses To Be Heard on Rates June 11th

Albany, N. Y., May 24 (AP)—The Public Service Commission has set June 11 for cross-examination of witnesses in the New York Telephone Company's request for a $15,753,000-a-year rate increase.

Burton R. Young, one of four company witnesses to appear at a PSC hearing yesterday, said the company sought $13,263,000 to meet the bulk of wage increases given earlier this year to 69,000 employes and $2,490,000 to meet an increase in depreciation expenses.

Young testified that an earlier $15,759,000 boost requested by the company had been revised to $15,753,000 on the basis of corrected estimates.

Young, a vice president, told the PSC he expected business to continue at a high level through 1956 despite "soft spots" in national economy. He offered that appraisal in support of the company's request. Economic "soft spots", he said, had appeared recently in housing, in the automobile industry and in "a slackening in the growth" of the total national product.

General counsel Ralph W. Brown said the company's case would be limited to evidence that increased costs justified a new increase.

Other company witnesses were Karl T. Dutschmann, vice president in charge of the operating staff; Robert A. Brown, appraisal engineer, and Paul O. Gunsalus, an assistant to Dutschmann.

12 Flee Glens Falls Restaurant Blaze

Glen Falls, N. Y., May 24 (AP)—Fire early today wrecked one restaurant and caused heavy damage to another in the heart of the downtown business district. One policeman was overcome by smoke while rescuing several persons from upper-floor apartments.

About 12 persons, including at least one child, escaped from the second and third-floors over the Commodore Restaurant and Grill on Warren St.

An adjoining Chinese Restaurant, the Kong-Chow, was damaged heavily. But the upper floors of that building, containing a carpenter's union local and living quarters of the restaurant manager, Louie G. Hong, were not touched.

Both are three-story brick buildings.

Saugerties Plans Parochial School Ground Breaking

Ground-breaking ceremonies for the proposed new parochial school to be built by St. Mary's Church, Saugerties, will be held Sunday at 3:30 p. m. at the site on Cedar street next to the present school building according to an announcement by the Rev. Charles P. Burke, pastor of St. Mary's Church.

Father Burke and Sister Anne Dolores, sister superior of the convent at Saugerties and principal of the school, will scoop the first shovels of ground at the new school site.

THE PROGRAM will include short speeches by attending dignitaries including Town Supervisor Peter M. Williams, Mayor Arthur F. Simmons, Thomas W. Reynolds Jr., president of Saugerties Area Chamber of Commerce and William Ziegler, president of the Saugerties Board of Education.

The Father Harty Drum Corps will provide music for the occasion.

Father Burke said that some of the oldest graduates and members of the latest graduating class will be introduced during the ceremonies.

He said that the bulldozers will begin work on the site Monday morning.

OVER-ALL plans call for the construction of a 16-room school with cafeteria, recreation hall and special offices for administrative officers. However, according to Father Burke, the immediate plans are to construct an eight-room school with cafeteria and kitchen facilities to meet the immediate needs of the parish.

Gerard Betz, Kingston architect, made up the plans for the first floor consisting of eight class rooms and cafeteria.

The present school is observing its 75th anniversary this year.

Speaker Is Named For Kelly Dinner Planned by VFW

Joseph Gumo, New York state department vice commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, will be the guest speaker at the "Man of the Year" dinner sponsored by Joyce-Schirick Post, 1386, honoring Joseph Kelly, city editor of The Kingston Daily Freeman, at the Governor Clinton Hotel on Thursday, May 31, at 7 p. m.

John R. Mayone, chairman, said today there were still a few tickets available for the dinner which is open to the public. Ladies are invited. Tickets may be secured at the office of City Judge Raymond J. Mino at the City Hall, Mr. Mayone said.

The Citizenship Award is sponsored annually by the Veterans of Foreign Wars on a national basis and the local award will be presented to Mr. Kelly in recognition of his many years of public service.

Mr. Kelly served three terms as alderman-at-large until Dec. 31, 1955 when he was not a candidate to succeed himself as presiding officer of the Common Council, choosing to devote full time to his newspaper post.

He has had a long and meritorious career in local politics, sports and journalism.

Negroes Are Barred

Delray Beach, Fla., May 24 (AP)—The city commission has barred Negroes from Delray Beach public bathing facilities in an emergency ordinance it said was passed "to prevent interracial riots." The action was taken yesterday, eight days after the dismissal of a Federal Court suit by nine Negroes for access to the beach and municipal pool. Absence of a city ordinance barring the Negroes was the basis of the dismissal.

Blinded Columnist Is Out of Hospital

New York, May 24 (AP)—Blinded labor columnist Victor Riesel is out of the hospital and says he expects to be back at his desk no later than Monday.

Riesel is continuing his nationally syndicated column with the aid of staff assistants.

The writer, who was blinded by an unidentified acid thrower April 5, walked out of a branch of St. Clare's Hospital yesterday after being discharged as a patient.

His wife, Evelyn, offered him an arm. But he shook it off and walked down the eight steps at the hospital entrance by himself. His eyes were covered with bandage patches.

An aide told newsmen that Riesel "has categorically refused a seeing-eye dog."

Farmer Asks Quick Action on Milk Price

New York, May 24 (AP)—Dairy farmer Harold Haslett of Greene, N. Y., said at a milk price hearing yesterday that "something has to be done and done right away" about milk prices in the New York area.

The hearing, which continues today, is being held by the United States and New York State Agriculture Departments on proposed price increases for fluid milk and cream and for milk used in making cheese, butter and ice cream.

Haslett said "a lot of men down in the city just don't realize what investments a farmer has to make."

He said he has to make $1,000 a month gross income" on his 180-acre farm before he can feed and clothe his family.

He said dairy farmers are "getting only $3.45 per hundredweight (46.5 quarts) of milk when we know it costs them $4.15 to $4.50 to produce this milk."

OFFICE CAT

A soldier wore size 14 shoes. One day he walked from camp to a nearby town over a muddy road. His first stop was at a bootblack's, where he mounted the stand and presented his enormous hobnails for a shine. The little bootblack sighed as he went bravely to work, but his supply of lubricating fluid was speedily exhausted. He stopped, straightened up and called to another bootblack:

First bootblack—Hey, Bob, lend me a spit. I've got an army contract!

Transport Mars Runway

Pueblo, Colo. (AP)—The Pueblo city government has billed Congress for $4,400 to pay for repairing an airport runway the city claimed was damaged by an air force transport flying flood relief supplies to Tampico, Mexico. Jack Keeler, director to aviation, said the city had to remove the runway blacktop, repack the base and relay surfacing after the transport's landing here.

Shows Resentment

Miami, Fla., May 24 (AP)—Adlai Stevenson is withholding direct fire on Sen. Estes Kefauver but he's showing resentment over attacks on his old age assistance record. The Democratic presidential aspirant, speaking in Jacksonville last night, said Kefauver supporters were circulating "critical and scurrilous literature" about him "perhaps without the knowledge of the senator." He made the remark on a question and answer television program when asked about his achievements as governor of Illinois.

A broken holding in a suit may cost you a trick to lead that suit. When you have several such suits, your best course is to adopt a passive defense, getting out safely at each opportunity, and allowing the other side to open each suit.

In today's hand, West didn't want to lead from the jack of hearts, the queen of diamonds, or from the ace of clubs. He wisely played for safety by leading a trump.

Declarer won the first trick in dummy with the ace of spades in order to lead towards the king of clubs. West won with the ace and got out once more with a trump.

Declarer won in dummy again and this time tried the diamond finesse. West won with the queen of diamonds and led his last trump.

South was now in trouble. He led the eight of clubs to force out the ten, won the diamond return, and cashed the king of diamonds. Nothing helped, for he hadn't set up the jack of clubs nor had the diamonds broken.

The hearts were no better. South led a heart ot the queen, losing to East's king. East returned a heart, and South finessed the ten. This lost to the jack, and South was down one.

South felt aggrieved at his bad luck. Every finesse was sour, and no suit broke well. The luck would have been different, however, if West had incautiously opened a heart or a diamond. Either lead would sacrifice a trick, and this would have given declarer the game and rubber.

Hiker, 77, Gets Sore Feet After 626 Hard Miles

Buffalo, N. Y., May 24 (AP)—Harry Ness' feet finally gave out after walking "practically all" the 626 miles from Milwaukee to this city.

The 77-year-old dairy worker left the Wisconsin city 18 days ago with $4.80 in his pocket en route to his home in Monticello, N. Y.

"I stayed with farmers along the way and had to spend a couple of nights sleeping on the ground," he said last night as he rested his weary bones in a police station. "But this is the first time I had to ask police for help."

Ness said he left Monticello last June to visit a sick brother in Milwaukee. He went out by bus with "about $60."

"When I got there my brother was dead and buried," he said. He stayed with relatives until he began the return trip home on foot.

Ness said he accepted only about three rides for a total of about 15 miles during the trip.

"Heck, I walked more than that when I was in the army from 1903 to 1913," he explained.

Ness said he is a native of Norway and a bachelor.

"Yes sir, and I hope I never do get married," he added.

Ness spent the night at the Erie County Lodging House.

The Travelers Aid Society provided him with free transportation to Monticello today.

"Yes sir, this isn't a bad place," commented Ness when he learned what arrangements had been made for him. "Guess I'll come back here someday."

Good Taste Today

By EMILY POST

(Author of Etiquette, Children Are People, etc.)

A MODERN CUSTOM

A reader writes as follows: "It seems to have became a custom here for the young college men to go about with their shirts open at the neck and no ties. They even dress this way when taking their dates to the leading hotels for dinner and for Sunday night suppers. When I confronted several of them about this, I was told that I am just plain old-fashioned and that this casual dress is quite in fashion at the present time. I would like to know how you feel about this."

Open collar and no tie is very sloppy and certainly not approved in any social circles that could be called "best."

Married Woman's Signature

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me the proper way to sign my name after I am married? There is quite a bit of controversy in my office about married women using their maiden names as a middle name. For example: Jane Alden Smith or Jane Anne Smith. Will you please settle this for me?

Answer: Jane Alden Smith is preferred because Jane Anne Smith, while not improper, does not tell who this person was before she was married.

Money Instead of Gifts

Dear Mrs. Post. My husband will soon celebrate his fiftieth birthday and I would like to give him a surprise birthday party. I would prefer that the guests bring money instead of gifts. Will you please tell me how I can include this on the invitations? My husband has been wanting an electric gadget for some time which is quite expensive and he could use the money to buy it. Please let me hear from you as I would like to send the invitations soon.

Answer: I'm sorry to have to say, "Please don't." It would really be in very bad taste.

Job for Pastor

Hartford, Conn. (AP)—The concrete steps to the portico of the Horace Bushnell Congregational Church needed replacing, and that posed a twin problem for the trustees. Where could they find a workman skillful enough not to mar the antique beauty of the Colonial style structure, and where would they get the money to pay for the job? The pastor of the church, the Rev. Joseph Zezzo, solved both problems. A stone mason before he entered the ministry, he did the job for nothing.

TILLSON NEWS

Invitations Go Out For School Meeting

Tillson, May 23—Members of boards of education and special committees on school affairs from the Town of Rosendale attended a meeting at the Tillson firehall Monday evening, for the purpose of continuing discussions regarding possible action that may be taken relative to the present school situation.

In order to obtain additional ideas as well as strength in organization, a special invitation is being extended to such interested persons from the various surrounding townships, including Woodstock, Ulster, Kingston, Hurley, Esopus and Rosendale to attend the next meeting of the group which will be held next Monday at 8 p. m. at the Tillson School.

At the meeting, G. A. Ryerson of Tillson, who presided as chairman, pointed out that after studying all phases of the situation, it has become apparent that it will be impossible for the schools in this area to be reinstated for the loss of State aid. Every possible way to obtain the funds,, despite the new law, was examined.

The committee has been investigating and studying the proposed greater Kingston area consolidation plan, and it is the hopes of the group to be able to formulate an alternative plan that can be presented to the people concerned. He stressed the importance of obtaining all the necessary data, so that the plan if formulated, will be sound and practical. He stated that the people should have more than one plan to discuss, consider or vote upon; that they should be able to make a choice.

It was decided to hold weekly meetings until such data could be obtained, making it possible for the group to arrive at an alternate plan. To do this, it is necessary for all districts involved to send representatives to the meetings, and for them to obtain certain statistics and other data as will be requested.

Teacher Recognition Program Held Monday

Tillson, May 23—A program in observance of a state-wide Recognition Day for teachers was held Monday evening at the Tillson School, with W. K. Wakeley, chairman of the board of education, acting as master of ceremonies. He was presented to the audience by Mrs. Gunther Newman, president of the Parent-Teachers Association who sponsored the affair.

George Fernandez, principal of the Tillson School, spoke on the subject "Our School" and he outlined briefly the purpose of the school in connection with the children, as well as giving a brief history of the school itself, starting from a one-room school and eventually becoming a modern, large school that it is today.

In addition to recognizing the very favorable work that teachers do today in helping make better citizens of the children, the work accomplished by individuals and organizations within the community was pointed out.

W. Hutchins spoke briefly about the recently formed but active Tillson Civic Association.

Guest speaker of the evening was George Mollenhauer, supervisor of the Town of Rosendale.

Mr. Mollenhauer, in his talk, pointed out the work projects of the many local organizations, all of which are either directly or indirectly beneficial to the children. He mentioned the volunteer fire company which only recently agreed to sponsor one team in the Little League now being organized in this area; in addition he mentioned the ladies auxiliary, the American Legion, the churches and their organizations, including the Christian Endeavor and the Ladies Aid Society. A teen-agers club has started again, also. He mentioned that the work of the teacher is aided tremendously by the work accomplished by these organizations.

Special plaques were awarded to two local persons who have, as W. K. Wakeley pointed out, performed duties "beyond reasonable expectations."

The plaques were received by Mrs. Nathaniel Phillips, who has assisted the school board in their work to a great extent during the past few years, and to Kenneth Clark, who after six years of continuous service on the board of education, retired from that position this year. Mr. Clark, it was pointed out, did a great deal of work toward having the present school building erected. In accepting the plaque, Clark gave credit to the members of the board, saying that the work of one man could not have accomplished what was done. It took the cooperation of all, plus the people in the district.

During the program, a poem honoring teachers was read by W. Serenbetz. Following the talks, refreshments were served by the members of the P-TA.

Plan Card Party

Tillson, May 23—The ladies' auxiliary of the Tillson volunteer fire company will hold a card party at the Tillson firehall at 8 p. m. Saturday, May 26. The public is invited. Prizes will be awarded and refreshments served.

Airman on Leave

Tillson, May 23—Airman 2/C Gerald Avery, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Avery of Tillson, is home on leave after completing a tour of duty in Alaska as radar mechanic. Airman Avery will report to Donaldson Air Force Base, S. C., on completion of his leave.

Reactivated Teen-age Club Holds Meeting

Tillson, May 23—The reactivated Teen Age Club in Tillson held its first meeting last week. The club which is looking for new members will meet Thursday evening in the Tillson School at 7:30 p. m. Chaperones are Mrs. Gunther Newman and Mrs. G. A. Ryerson. Eleven members now belong to the club. All teen-agers in Tillson are invited to join. Plans for future activities will be discussed at meetings. For further information contact either one of the chaperones.

Town Notes

Tillson, May 23 — The regular monthly meeting of the Tillson Civic Association will be held Thursday evening, May 31.

Mrs. Leslie Barringer entertained at home Saturday afternoon in honor of the seventh birthday of her daughter Lesley. Those attending the party were, from Tillson: Barbara Rodigues, Patricia Hoffman, Linda, Raymond, Stanley, and Sharon Wright, Susan Schultz, Lorraine and Annette Blakely, Laurie Barringer, Wayne and Bryon Waddell and Betsy Hutchins; from Rosendale: Billy Mehm, Dennis George and Elaine Leidel; Lynn Cipolli, Kingston; Cathy, John and Larry Dewey of Brewster, and Mary and Billy Barringer of Red Hook.

Mrs. John Markle entertained Sunday in honor of her daughter, Patricia, on her 12th birthday. Guests were treated to a movie and luncheon at home. Those attending included Sharon Yarter, Marilyn Harvey, Margaret Geiselman and Diane Deyo.

Turkish Cypriots Riot

Nicosia, Cyprus, May 24 — Turkish Cypriots rioted through Nicosia today in revenge for the killing of a Turkish Cypriot police sergeant. Bullets sprayed from the window of a taxi driven through the Greek shopping center. Youthful bands stoned Greek Cypriots and their shops. Most shopkeepers, both Greek and Turk, had slammed down their shutters earlier as tension built up.

Woodstock, May 23 — Bruce Currie, Woodstock painter has been given the 12th annual Herminie E. Kleinert award, given to a worthy artist in Woodstock, on the late Miss Kleinert's birthday, May 17.

The award of $300 was presented to Currie after being chosen by a group of friends of Miss Kleinert's.

Mr. Currie, who once had ambitions to be a clarinet player, turned to painting, his interest in both music and art beginning at the age of eight. Born in Sac City, Iowa in 1911, he attended the University of Chicago where he worked in both the music and art departments, and played in the university symphony orchestra.

After coming to New York he became a cartoonist, but still kept up his music playing in amateur chamber music groups. Discharged from the army in 1945 he came to Woodstock and in 1946 met his wife Ethel Magafan, also a painter, who has received many awards.

In 1951 and 1952 they traveled through Europe where Ethel had been sent on a Fulbright Award. In 1953 he was chosen to receive one of the Woodstock Foundation Awards for 1953.

Currie's paintings have been included in exhibitions of the National Academy of Design, the American Watercolor Society, the Norfolk Museum (Va.), the Schenectady Museum of Art, and in a one-man show at the Ganso Gallery, New York in May 1954. He is now associated with the Roko Gallery in New York city, Rudolph's Gallery, Woodstock, and is a member of the Woodstock Artists Association.

His most recent trip was to Mexico during the summer of 1955 when he and his wife spent four months there sketching and painting.

Living Costs Up

Washington, May 24 (AP)—The government reported today living costs increased slightly in April. The rise of 2/10ths of one per cent was enough to give about a million workers a one-cent-an-hour wage boost. The wage rise will go to auto and other workers who have union contracts tied to the government's index. The Labor Department said the April rise in its living costs index was chiefly due to seasonally higher food costs for the average American family.

VISITORS TO CEMENT PLANT—Among some 130 engineers who were guests of Andrew J. Snyder, president of the Century Cement Manufacturing Company, Inc., Rosendale, on Tuesday were (l to r) John J. Kelly, chief chemist, Century Cement Manufacturing Co., Inc.; John S. Wait, president of The Wait Association, Inc.; Charles Cook, president of the Connecticut Society of Civil Engineers; Mr. Snyder and Edward Sagin, vice-president of The Wait Association, Inc. 130 Engineers Make Study Of Rosendale Cement Plant

Approximately 130 engineers of the Connecticut Society of Civil Engineers and the Mohawk Section of the American Society of Civil Engineers were the guests of Andrew J. Snyder, president of the Century Cement Manufacturing Company, Inc., of Rosendale, on Tuesday.

Charles Cook, president of the Connecticut Society of Civil Engineers, recently appointed by Governor Ribicoff as director of the Park River Flood Control, presided.

AMONG OTHER well-known engineers were John W. Johnson, superintendent of the New York State Department of Public Works, Eugene Gibbons, chief engineer, and C. F. Blanchard, deputy chief engineer.

Following the business session the engineers adjourned to a refreshment pavilion adjacent to the office of the Century Cement Company. Buses took the engineers to various sections of the cement manufacturing operations.

The highpoint to most of the engineers was the trip underground, a half mile into the depths of the earth, to see the mining of cement rock. In small groups the engineers were taken in open conveyances down the main tunnel into what seemed to many of them an underground city sparkling with lights. Many of the guests were awed at the magnitude of the 125-year-old mine especially after they were told that the deposit was formed some 250 million years ago.

A PANORMA of drilling, loading holes and of electric shovels loading rock into trucks was unfolded before them as they were driven from room to room of this vast cavern and then, just when they thought perhaps the driver had gotten lost, they once more emerged outdoors. The engineers agreed that the trip was most impressive.

The group then left for West Point where it was scheduled to witness as guests of the Academy a full-dress parade and, later, dinner at the Hotel Thayer.

A VISIT to the Century Cement mine is reported to be an objective of scientific geological groups from numerous schools.

The mine has been in operation since 1830 and has provided rock to be made into cement for many of the famous well-known edifices in the United States. Rosendale Cement, slow setting but long lasting, reportedly has no peer in the building industry. The Century Cement Company is now supplying the St. Lawrence Seaway with its needed natural cement.

Saugerties, May 22—William Wootton of Elm street, wrecking contractor has been sub-contracted to excavate and demolish the home of the late Anna V. G. Thomas at Market street to make room for the new Grand Union Super Market.

Mr. Wootton indicated that he would begin work early this week. His most recent demolitions were the O'Dea building on Partition street to make room for an entrance to the off-street municipal parking lot and the Loerzel Brewery building.

The majority of the construction work for the new Grand Union will be given to local people according to Henry Smith of the R and S Construction Company which gave the demolition contarct to Mr. Wootton.

The site of the proposed new super market is located on Market street between the intersection of Route 212-32 or Ulster avenue and Lafayette street and consists of the Thomas property and a tract purchased from Atonement Lutheran Church which is located across the street.

Robert F. De Wesse, general manager of the Grand Union Company announced from Watervliet that the new store would employ about 35 to 50 people and would furnish parking facilities for approximately 90 cars.

The announcement by Dr. De Wesse indicated that the new store would cost approximately $250,000 and is expected to be completed in October. Rosenblum and Lamb, Saugerties attorneys were negotiators in the sale of the property.

Schwab Addresses Cost Accountants On Methods, Time

Methods - time measurement was the topic discussed by John L. Schwab, management consultant in his address at the meeting of Mid-Hudson chapter of National Association of Cost Accountants this week at the Nelson House, Poughkeepsie.

He stressed MTM as a basis for precalculating time and that it is a tangible measurement. Recognizing that time is governed by a combination of physical and mental motions, these elements are timed to determine the methods by which a job is done, he said.

Mr. Schwab noted that the cost accountant is important in the function of management; he supplies the cost control data to management and if he fully understands MTM, then he can determine costs on the basis of something tangible and objective and through facts he knows the product cost in advance and can recognize the need for economic change in plant facilities.

In concluding his address, Mr. Schwab made the analogy that the individual and the company are the same spiritually. Man is governed by soul, mind and body and the same applies to the company. Each in its medium must create, be part of a social and economic order and always must attune to progress, or be obliterated, he said.

Washington, May 24 (AP)—New polio cases last week totaled only 85, slightly more than a third of the 245 in the corresponding week last year and the lowest number for the comparable week since 1951. However, Public Health Service spokesmen reiterated today it is still too early to say what may happen later in the year. They also said it is too early and information is too scanty to say whether the big drop reflects use of Salk polio vaccine.

Saugerties High Grabs Second Straight UCAL Track Title

Upset Favored Onteora By Five-Point Margin

By SAM ANZALONE
Freeman Sports Staff

Sweeping the last two events, Saugerties High School walked off with the Ulster County Athletic League Track and Field Meet championship for the second successive year yesterday at New Paltz Central's one-fourth mile oval. The Sawyers compiled 46¾ points in defeating five rival schools.

Saugerties finished first in five events and captured five second places to edge out Onteora Central, the runnerup with 41¾ points. The Indians also grabbed five events, but couldn't muster enough seconds and thirds to win the meet.

Third in the meet was host New Paltz with 19¾, followed by Marlboro 13, Highland 12¾ and Wallkill 9. Of these schools, only Wallkill failed to take down a first.

THE VICTORY for Bob Moser's Sawyers was a well-earned one and came as somewhat of an upset since Oneonta was favored on its unbeaten record. Saugerties too boasts a brilliant mark, having lost only to Hudson High in two years.

Victories in the discus and 880 yard relay clinched the championship for Saugerties as the Indians led by five points with 11 of 13 events tabulated. John Dragon triumped in the discus with a toss of 111 feet, 11 inches and then Sawyers' crack relay team of Bill Zeilman, George Neher, Jim Erceg and Larry Kithcart breezed easily home in front in 1:44.2 to sew up the crown.

THERE WERE no double winners during the course of the afternoon and no records broken. Dragon came probably the closest to scoring a double, finishing behind teammate Fred Brenning in the shot put. Brenning's winning distance was 42 feet, 11 inches.

Other Sawyers to cop firsts were Kithcart in the 100-yard dash in 10.7 and Zeilman in the 220 in 23.7 seconds.

Winners for Onteora were Ted Jensen in the hurdles in the good time of 22.8 seconds; Glenn Glass in the 880 run in 2:14.2; Ben Robinson in the broad jump with a leap of 18 feet, 2¾ inches; Kurt Hahn in the pole vault on 9 feet, and Bob Hall in the 440 in 57.2 seconds.

MARLBORO'S brilliant miler, Tom Schopinsky, won almost as he pleased in 4 minutes, 55 seconds. The long striding senior set the pace almost all the way and won by approximately a quarter of a mile.

Roy Stock of New Paltz took the high jump event. The promising sophomore leaped 5 feet, 5 inches. John Valentino of Highland snared the javelin title, throwing the spear 123 feet, 1 inch.

Wild Pitch With Bases Loaded Key Play of Contest

Pritchett, Kithcart Pitch Brilliantly

	Won	Lost
Dodgers	1	0
Giants	1	0
Braves	0	1

Three walks loaded the bases in the bottom of the sixth. A wild pitch sent the winning run scampering across the plate.

That's how the Giants shaded the Braves 5-4 in the secondary opener of the Glasco-East Kingston Little League yesterday on the East Kingston diamond.

Freddie Pritchett of the Braves and Gene Kithcart of the Giants were locked in a 4-4 tie when the Giants came to bat for the last time. And Freddie was pitching a terrific game up to that point.

PRITCHETT suddenly lost control. He walked Joe Clausi, Kithcart, then Rea to load the bases. A moment later he uncorked a wild pitch and Clausi romped home with the winning run.

Pritchett and Kithcart both pitched splendidly. The former permitted five hits and struck out 13 for an early season record. Kithcart granted one less hit and had one less strikeout.

No player on either side got more than one hit. Frank Gallo and Anthony Fiore of the Braves pounded doubles. Jimmy Davide and Richie Marelli of the Giants connected for triples.

Kozlowski and Cross Pitch 3-Hitters in Softball Loop

Three slugfests and an equal number of superlative pitching stints featured action in the City Softball League. Al Cross and Jack Kozlowski turned in three-hitters while Al Hunt fashioned a four-hit job as Hilltop whacked Wimpy's 19-3; Prospect Dairy edged Subway Grill, 3-2; Chez Emile thumped Perry's, 15-8; Mion Lumber defeated Madden TV, 9-6 and Cedar Rest clubbed Lincoln Park, 16-11.

Cross gave up one walk and fanned one batter in the Hilltop win. Clyde Carter tripled. Hunt lost a heartbreaker in the last inning when Prospect Dairy scored three runs with two away and Jack Kozlowski won his own game, stroking a single to center following a walk and a safety. Lou Perry's circus catch in deep right was the fielding gem.

PHIL TESORO'S homer and Duke Freer's triple highlighted the shelling in the 41-hit Cedar Rest-Lincoln Park contest. Maury Ostrander poled a round-tripper for Miron Lumber to help Don Moyer who walked only one man. Bud Knight walked seven and the same number of errors behind him told the story there.

The batting stars in the five games, in fact, produced enough fireworks to reach telephone number proportions.

Hilltopper's siege guns were: Rockwell 2 for 4, Flip Felipe 2 for 5, McCardle 3 for 5, Primo 2 for 4, Billy Gavis 4 for 5. Joe Scholar collected a brace of hits in three times at bat for Subway.

MIKE PROVENZANO rifled three hits in six trips for Cedar Rest; Don Herzog had a perfect night with five hits; Nick Hahn and Ralph Lyons went 3 for 5 while Gene Rios and Harry VanWaggen got three singles in four trips.

In the Miron-Madden contest, Rod Whittaker stroked two singles in four attempts, Franz got two singles in three efforts for Madden's.

Art Hansen halved four trips with two singles and Cliff Davis picked up two hits in three times at bat for Perry's.

Chez Emile came up with an 11-run seventh inning. Don Hobart paced the attack with a 4 for 5 performance, including a three-run homer.

Won and Lost

Knobel, Ark. (AP)—The woman mayor of this tiny Arkansas town had a tough time gaining re-election, but she managed to do it. Miss Pauline Baker and Harley Gowen tied in the regular election, so the state attorney general ordered a run-off. Miss Baker won but the men gained control of the government by ousting three women from the 5-member City Council.

High School Subs Score 12-7 Victory Over Hudson High

Free Sub Rule Used in Game At Dietz Field

BY SAM ANZALONE
(Freeman Sports Staff)

Scoring in every inning, Kingston High school trimmed Hudson High for the second time this season, 12-7, at Dietz Stadium. The non-league victory brought the Maroons' overall record to 5-3.

The contest was a dizzy affair and took almost three hours to play. What prolonged the agony was the agreement by both coaches to play the game under the free substitution rule which permits players to shuttle in and out of the lineup.

Coach Al Gruner took the opportunity to play most of the boys who will be back next year. Of this year's first string, only Bill Cragan and Bill Chase started and both are slated to return.

On the whole, the newcomers showed up well and should form a good nucleus for the '57 squad. Chase was especially outstanding, going 4-for-4 and fielding and throwing with authority.

THE MAROONS rolled up a 7-0 margin after four innings and it looked like Bob Bareika was going to breeze to his first pitching success as a Maroon. The lanky righthander was the only senior in the starting lineup and was making his first appearance as a hurler. The past couple of seasons he was used as a reserve outfielder.

Bareika just ran out of gas in the sixth and was pounded for five runs as Hudson pulled up to trail 8-6. Tony Turck rescued Bareika and finished the game.

Kingston jumped on Bernie Conine for solo runs in the first two innings. Joe Schrowang's single drove Chase across with a wind-blown double down the left field line which scored Bill Cragan.

Conine was kayoed in the third after forcing in three runs on walks. Dick Woodward took over and was tagged for a pair in the fourth. Singles by Chase and Don Krueger, a walk and a force play did the damage.

HUDSON finally broke the ice in the fifth on an unearned run. Jim Woodward scored it from second on Cragan's overthrow on Ehor Tokarchuk's slow bouncer. The Maroons got the run back in their half as Junior Jackson singled, stole second and scored on a pair of ground balls.

Bareika didn't last too long in the sixth as the visitors flexed their muscles for the only time in the game. He loaded the bases on two walks and a boot by Cragan. Then came a sacrifice fly by Jim Woodward and successive single by Tokarchuk and Jim Shumsky which brought on Turck. Dick Leggett greeted the Maroon reliefer with a hit that registered the fifth run of the frame. Turck then got the next two batters on a fly and ground ball to end matters.

The Maroons lashed back at Woodward for four insurance runs in their final turn at bat. Krueger got his third hit to trigger the rally and was forced by Cragan, Ed Riggio's single chased Cragan to third where he counted on a wild pitch.

PASSES to Tony Turck and Frank Sammons kept the wheels turning and loaded the bases. A ground out and Chase's fourth straight hit sent the final markers scurrying over.

Hudson nicked Turck for a final score in the seventh when pinch hitter Warchol tallied as Schrowang let Jim Woodward's grounder squirt through his legs.

The Maroons resume league action Thursday against Poughkeepsie at the Bridge City. Should the Pioneers win they will then clinch the DUSO title. Gruner revealed that Tony Turck would be his mound choice for the game.

Congratulations to Chuck Nord, former Freeman sportswriter, for winning the first annual Grantland Rice Memorial Award, granted in a nationwide competition by the Thoroughbred Racing Association.

A gifted young newspaperman, Chuck should come through handsomely for the TRA in the four-year course at Vanderbilt University. He could easily become the Bill Corum of his time.

• Names in the News:

Chet Tymeson is a 25-year veteran of the baseball beat as an official, scorekeeper, public relations man. You would not expect him to get aroused about semi-pro baseball unless it was something special. The Broome's Tavern barkeep told us the other night he was amazed by village reaction to Saugerties' entry into the New York-New Jersey League. "It's spreading like fever," he said. "I never saw so many people talking up baseball since the days of the old Bushwicks and A.C.'s." The club has had excellent response to its seasonal ticket sale and the operational "nut" should be cracked before the season gets under way on Memorial Day against the Jersey City Cardinals at Cantine Memorial Field.

• Flotsam and Jetsam:

Richie McConnell, former Kingston High School outfielder and basketball player, is assistant to the baseball coach at West Point. A captain, Richie served overseas in Germany. . . . A man Coach G. Warren Kias might properly describe as one of the finest all-round athletes during his regime got a nice plug in a recent issue in the New York Times dealing with the expanded athletic program at Adelphi University in New York. . . . One of the mid-Hudson's most prominent athletic coaches and basketball arbiters —Don Neff of Cardinal Farley Military Academy (Rhinebeck)— has resigned, effective June 10, to accept a job as an insurance salesman in Pittsburgh. Neff came to the area in 1951 when he was named coach at Highland High School. He resigned in 1952 to take the job at the academy. Previously he had coached at Margaretville for seven years. A topnotch basketball official, Neff had drawn several college assignments in the last two years. He expects to continue officiating college ball around Pittsburgh.

• Of Men and Mice:

One of the finest speeches we ever heard at a bowling banquet were the eloquent remarks former mayor Conrad J. Heiselman directed to members of the Ferraro Classic League at Charlie Marabell's Schoentag's Hotel. The ex-mayor was a surprise guest along with Mayor Fred Stang, who has responded graciously to all bowling banquet invitations he can cram into his busy schedule. Through the years Kingston mayors—Connie Heiselman, Oscar V. Newkirk, William F. Edelmuth and now Fred Stang—have spoken countless thousands of words at hundreds of dinners. As a part time toastmaster over the years, we'll have to claim the world's record for introducing mayors. Whether Kingston bowlers know it or not, they're extremely fortunate to have had the type of mayors who responded to all reasonable requests. And when a person is invited to 25 or 30 banquets in a matter of a few weeks, it can be a tremendous chore. Not to mention what it will do to one's waist line.

Kitione Lave, the Tongan Terror who knocked out Don Cockell in two rounds, has a Queen for a sponsor. When he was young, he ran away from the home of his minister-father. The Tongan Queen provided Lave with boxing equipment at the age of 15, and today he wears his monarch's colors in the ring—red trunks with white stripes. Thought you'd like to know.

THE SCOREBOARD

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Want to take a stab at naming the best pitcher-hitter combination in the National League at the moment? Newcombe and Snider? Mizell and Repulski; Spahn and Aaron? Antonelli and Mays?

Nope. It's Pittsburgh that has 'em, with Bob Friend piling up seven victories and seven complete games and Dale Long belting the ball at a .409 clip. They've got the Pirates so close to first place it looks like a typographical error.

They work so well Manager Bobby Bragan can hardly wait to get 'em together. Last night he called on Friend after only two days' rest. The 25-year-old righthander racked up his first shutout of the season with a neat six-singles job that beat the St. Louis Cardinals 6-0.

Long, at 30 the oldest of the Pirate regulars, kept up his end with a 360-foot-plus home run—giving him the NL's runs-batted-in lead with 32 and tying Cincinnati's Wally Post for the homer lead with 11—as the Bucs moved within 1½ games of the lead and a mere half-game behind fourth place Brooklyn.

THE PIRATES have won four of their last five and Friend has two of the victories (against first place Milwaukee and second place St. Louis) while Long has homered in all five and has driven in 14 runs.

Rain stopped Milwaukee at Brooklyn and Cincinnati at New York. In the only other NL game played, Chicago's Cubs beat Philadelphia 5-4 on eight-inning homers by Monte Irvin and Harry Chiti.

In the American, the New York Yankees kept their 2½-game lead by banging Detroit 13-5. Cleveland held the pace, defeating Boston 6-3 as Herb Score won his fifth. The Chicago White Sox beat Baltimore 3-2. Kansas City, scoring the winning run on a wild pitch, outlasted Washington 7-6 in 17 innings.

Friend, who has lost two, put his earned run average (a department he led in the NL last season, at 2.74 and struck out five to top the league with 49. His only bad moment came in the third when he gave two singles and an intentional walk with two out. He got Ken Boyer on an eacy grounder to end this threat.

HANK FOILES, who also homered, Long and rookie Lee Walls each drove in two runs against loser Willard Schmidt and reliefer Lindy McDaniel. Wall had 2-for-4, raising his average to .369.

The Cubs had to overhaul a 4-1 Phil lead to break a three-game slump. Irvin's homer tied it and Chiti's won it as Harvey Haddix lost his second. Vito Valentinetti won his first in the majors with one-hit ball after relieving Warren Hacker in the sixth.

The Yanks battered loser Billy Hoeft for five runs in the second, then sewed it up off Detroit bonus baby Jim Brady as Hank Bauer hit a three-run homer to get a six-run sixth under way. Tommy Byrne won his second in relief. The Yanks, now 7-9 on their road trip, hammered 17 hits—but contributed nine of the game's 14 walks and three of the seven errors.

TWO SINGLES, two walks and Jim Busby's double off previously unbeaten Frank Sullivan in the sixth scored the two runs Cleveland needed to edge Boston for the first time this season. All three Red Sox runs were scored in the eighth without a hit—the first on four of Score's eight walks and the other two on a bases-loaded walk by reliefer Don Mossi and a sacrifice fly.

Camilio Pascual uncorked the wild pitch with the bases loaded in the 17th at Kansas City as the A's climbed out of the cellar and dropped the Senators in. Washington scored in the top of the 17th, but Jim Finigan homered to even it at 6-all to get Kansas City started in the winning frame.

Town Ulster Little League Opens Season Sunday

Town Parade, Ceremonies Set For First Day

Bill Lohrman To Make Appearance

Bill Lohrman, former New York Giant pitcher, will be one of the speakers at the dedication ceremonies of the Town of Ulster Little League ball park back of the Chambers School, Albany avenue extension, Sunday afternoon. Lohrman, who since his retirement has made Ulster county his home, will give a pitching exhibition for the benefit of the Little Leaguers and their guests.

The ceremonies at the field will be preceded by a parade which will form at 1 o'clock at Albany avenue and Harwich street and proceed at 1:30 o'clock to the ball park.

The Town of Ulster Little League committee of which Ted Muscialkiewicz is president, has been working hard and long to organize the League which will play its opening league game on Monday, May 28. Sunday there will be two pre-season three inning games played by the teams in the curtain-raising ceremonies.

THE PARADE will proceed over Albany avenue to the field and in the line of march headed by a platoon of horsemen, will be the following:

Colors. Town of Ulster officials. Board of Education of the Chambers School. Concert Band, directed by Sal Castiglione, in cooperation with Local 215, American Federation of Musicians. This band will appear through a grant from the Music Performance Trust Fund of Recording Industry, and has been arranged by John Cole, president of the Local, Michael Marchuk, secretary, and Peter Ferraro, chairman.

Following the band will be the teams with their managers and coaches. Albany Avenue Business Men Association float. Doodle Dorfers Band. Town of Ulster Fire Department. Ladies Auxiliary. D.D.'s float. Ulster Kiwanis Club. Troop No. 12, Boy Scout Scouts. Brownies. Girl Scouts and members of the Lowlanders Riding Club.

At the ball field the ceremonies will open with the Flag raising.

THE MASTER of ceremonies will be Charles J. Tiano, sports editor of The Kingston Freeman. Among the guests who will be presented, are Supervisor Percy Bush. President of the Board of Education, Edward F. Dingeldey. President of Ulster 5 Hose Company, Al Kilmer. John L. Vines, president of the Ulster-Kiwanis Club. Dave Van Wagenen, president of the Albany Avenue Business Men. Albert DiDonna of D. D.'s. J. Lipton, who donated the use of his Bee Line bus offices to the Little League committee for organization meetings and A. H. Chambers, who has been most co-operative in school activities and who has granted use of land for entrance to the school property.

Also presented at the ceremonies will be the members of the four teams, their managers, coaches and sponsors. Ted Musialkiewicz, president of the Little League, will be the first speaker followed by Bill Lohrman.

The first ball of the season for the exhibition games will be tossed out by Supervisor Percy Bush.

The teams and their sponsors in the Town of Ulster Little League are:

New Heavyweight Shines Beating Harold Carter

Detroit, May 24 (AP)—If the world had a heavyweight champion, the cry from the Johnny Summerlin camp today would be "bring on the champ."

As it is, Summerlin's handlers are bellowing for "anyone—just anyone who thinks he can whip us."

The 24-year-old Detroit heavyweight used a strong start and a furious finish last night to take a unanimous, 10-round decision from seventh-ranked Harold Carter. His handlers hope the victory will be a springboard to a crack at the crown left vacant when Rocky Marciano retired.

The nationally televised scrap at Detroit's Olympia was a big opportunity for both fighters. The favored Summerlin, who weighed 194¾, was the stronger puncher and built up an early margin.

WE'RE THE best until someone makes a liar out of us," said Frank Loftus, Summerlin's manager. "The big ones have been dodging us long enough. They can't do it after tonight.

For Summerlin, who is ranked fifth in the division, it was win No. 30 against four losses and two deadlocks. The loss was only the 22-year-old Linden, N. J., fighter's second in 22 bouts. He has two draws.

Last night's bout drew a crowd of 2,177 which paid a gross gate of $3,459.30. Carter came in at 195 and Summerlin was a quarter of a pound lighter.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By JOE STETSON
Dog Editor

Jed Ireland is a beagle breeder. He's a fine sportsman and a real dog lover. He raises dogs for both bench and field, though field trials are his real weakness.

There isn't anything within reason he wouldn't do for the welfare and comfort of his dogs, but Jed, like thousands of others, makes a practice of transporting his dogs in the trunk of his car. It was my objection to this that prompted him to tell me that he blocks the trunk lid open to afford the dogs more ventilation.

"Nothing is worse than a closed trunk lid except an open one," I told Jed.

NOTHING irritates and frustrates me more than the persistent disregard people display regarding carbon monoxide from automobile exhaust gases. Because the actual behavior of the gases around a moving car cannot be seen, they refuse to accept the fact that the partial vacuum caused by the forward motion of the car pulls the gases into the space behind the windshield and other frontal surfaces.

The carbon monoxide content of automobile exhaust is deadly. Opening the trunk lid is even detrimental to the human occupants of the car. Imagine the danger to dogs in the rear—especially since dogs are five times as susceptible to carbon monoxide as man.

LET'S FACE IT!—the trunk space of the modern automobile is large and convenient. It is separate from passengers and upholstery. It certainly would seem to be the logical place in which to carry dogs, whether they can be freshly groomed for show or mud be-spattered and snarled with burrs from a morning's hunt.

We must also face the fact that a dog in a trunk is at the mercy of the sun when in the trunk of a parked car and exhaust gases when the car is under way. The manufacturer has not planned the vehicle for transportation of live passengers in the trunk. Before it can be used for this purpose, it must be properly adapted by the owner.

There is one simple way to make a car safe for dogs without depreciating the car's market value.

Replace the deck between the back of the rear seat and the front of the rear window with a well-framed grill of wire mesh, such as half inch hardware cloth. This will admit air from the passenger compartment.

The front air scoop should then be kept open to force air into the trunk. When the car is at rest in anything but severe weather, the windows should be kept open.

Senators Drop From First to Fourth in EL

(By The Associated Press)

The Eastern League pennant race, which entered its second month today, still is so tight that a team can drop from first to fourth place by dropping one game.

The Albany Senators, who led by 19 percentage points before the game, took the long nose dive last night as the Williamsport Grays edged them 2-1 behind Ben Malcolm's five-hit pitching. Jack Wall gave up the seven hits the Senators allowed the Grays, before he was removed for a pinch-hitter in the seventh. Jose Albanese finished.

IN OTHER league contests, the Schenectady Blue Jays downed the host Johnstown Johnnies 8-3, the Allentown Redbirds shaded the visiting Syracuse Chiefs 9-8 and the Binghamton Triplets took two from the Indians at Reading 7-4 and 4-0.

Dick Bunker, who went the distance for the Jays, was aided by his teammates' five double plays. The victory returned the Jays once more to a first-place tie with Williamsport.

The Triplets moved into the third spot ahead of Albany with their double victory. Pat Foley and Zack Monroe each went the distance to win a game. Monroe allowed only three hits in the nightcap.

WHEN IS A USED CAR BETTER VALUE THAN A NEW ONE?
The answer depends on (1) Price (2) Condition (3) Where you buy it (4) What kind of warranty it carries. All 4 are important. Nothing can beat a new car if its NEWNESS you want most. But VALUE that's another question. At the right price and the right condition from the RIGHT DEALER, and with the RIGHT WARRANTY. Your used car can be a better value than the new one. If you have ever dealt with us you know how true this is, if you haven't put us to the test. Here are some of our cars that carry 1 year warranty, 100% on motor, transmission and rear end.

Driving Preacher

Hugo, Okla. (AP)—A 34-year-old drivers' license examiner with the Oklahoma Department of Public Safety has been busy since February combining his present job with newer duties as a minister. R. J. Brown is looking forward to an even busier schedule as he prepares to further his education in the ministry. One of his problems was solved when a friend offered to pay his tuition for a session at Oklahoma Baptist University Shawnee. Active in church work since the age of 16, Brown was ordained as a minister last February and since has served as full time pastor of Oak Grove Baptist Church.

Urges Increase In Membership of Methodist Church

A call for a six per cent increase in the membership of every Methodist Church was made today by the Rev. G. Roy Bragg of Newburgh, who presented a composite report of the four district superintendents at the opening session of the New York Annual Conference at the Broadway Temple - Washington Heights Methodist Church, New York city.

More than 800 ministerial and lay delegates are attending the 157th annual four-day session.

"It is estimated that the population of the United States will increase approximately three million during 1956," the Rev. Mr. Bragg pointed out. "To have the same rate of increase, the Methodist Church must win over half a million members and to do this every church will have to add six per cent as many new Methodists as it has members," he said.

Marked success in youth evangelism in 1955 was noted by the Rev. Mr. Bragg who pointed out that eight youth missions were held in the Kingston, Newburgh and New York districts resulting in 433 new members for Youth Fellowship groups. Of that number, he said, 131 young persons indicated their desire to join the church. Similar missions are planned next fall in the Poughkeepsie district and in New York city, he added.

The superintendents also called for support of a conference-wide evangelistic mission planned for October by the Board of Evangelism of which the Rev. Allen E. Claxton, pastor of the host church, is chairman.

More than $500,000 was spent last year on property improvements, Rev. Mr. Bragg stated, mentioning the construction of major units in Greenville, Highland, Cornwall, Katonah, Carmel, Hudson, Garnertown and Hartsdale, N. Y.

An appeal was made for more thorough training of church school teachers and the organization of courses on the district level. Average attendance at church school increased by 428 last year, Rev. Mr. Bragg pointed out and added, "It is possible that the increasing supervision and better preparation of our teachers account for the more regular attendance of our youth in church schools."

Churches were urged to recruit more men for the ministry and to interest as many young persons as possible in Christian vocations.

The report was prepared by Rev. Mr. Bragg in cooperation with the Rev. D. George Davies, superintendent of the Kingston District, the Rev. Elmer B. Bostock, superintendent of the New York District, and the Rev. Reginald T. Edwards, superintendent of the Poughkeepsie District.

Operator of Auto Driving School

CHESTER A. PEKINS

Chester A. Pekins, of 85 Main street, a former state motor vehicle bureau inspector, has announced he is now operating the AA Auto Driving School in this city.

Mr. Pekins formerly operated the Capital Auto Driving School in Albany and was president of the Capital District Association of Professional Auto Driving Schools.

He is a veteran of World War 2 and a member of the American Legion.

Driver, 16, Fined $30 Following Two-Car Crash

A 16-year-old Kingston youth was fined a total of $30 Wednesday on two counts resulting from a two-car collision May 18.

He is Charles C. Eastment of 116 Pearl street.

Eastment was arrested by Kingston state police following an investgation by Trooper H. S. Rhodes.

He was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Edward Brodsky of the town of Rosendale on charges of reckless driving and driving as an unsupervised learner. Judge Brodsky fined the youth $25 on the reckless driving charge and $5 as an unsupervised learner.

Eastment was operating a 1952 sedan in a southerly direction about 4:30 p. m. Friday, May 18, on the Binnewater road a mile north of Rosendale when he was apparently in a head-on collision with a 1951 sedan operated by John Penter, 119 Lucas avenue, traveling in a northerly direction. Both cars had to be towed away.

Eastment was admitted to Benedictine Hospital with multiple lacerations of the face and possible concussion. Penter was treated at the hospital for a fractured nose, multiple abrasions of the left leg and elbow but was not admitted.

George Van Horne, 15, of 27 Orchard street, a passenger in the car operated by Eastment, was admitted to Benedictine Hospital suffering from lacerations of the scalp, multiple bruises of the face and concussion.

Britain Has Anniversary

London, May 23 (AP)—Britain, celebrating the 40th anniversary of Empire Day today, has hardened her resolve to hold several restless overseas bastions no matter how much the people there want to get rid of the Union Jack. The British resolve to remain ruler of strategic outposts—proclaimed by Foreign Minister Selwyn Lloyd in a speech this week—cuts across a traditional policy of leading colonies to political independence. The idea was that the colonies, once freed, would continue to coordinate their military, economic and foreign policies with Britain's as members of the British Commonwealth.

Cancer Research

ment, they already can be used as specific treatment in selected cases.

Dr. Southam spoke on drug therapy in cancer and showed that it was of some value in prolonging the life of patients with leukemia and cancers of the lymphatic system which, while they have not been cured, have extended the life span as much as two years and more and have given relief of symptoms. He pointed out further that the pursuit of this field of treatment shows promise of some day producing drugs which may possibly prove to be curative.

Dr. Twombly discussed two methods of approach to the problem of cancer of the cervix and pointed out that X-ray and radium are not really competing methods with surgery but that the method used depends on the nature and extent of the disease. He also discussed indications for choosing the proper method in individual cases.

Dr. Lipsett discussed the interrelation between the growth of cancer and hormones normally produced in the body and how we can use this knowledge by removing the stimulating influence of certain glands and, in selected cases, using other hormones to slow down cancer growth and thus prolong life and provide relief of pain.

Col. Gilmore, who is curator of a museum containing the largest collection of medical specimens in the world, spoke on "Distinctive Tumors of the World," pointing out the relation of various customs, races, economic circumstances, occupations and climates to the development of various types of cancer.

He explained that specific influences, such as those, are often related to specific types of cancer. He presented illustrations of various types of cancer, drawing his material from many parts of the world, and discussed the relationship of these cancers to geography, climate, etc.

Col. Gilmore was introduced by Dr. Edward Shea who served as master-of-ceremonies at the dinner.

Greetings to those attending the sessions were brought by Dr. John Olivet, president of the Ulster County Medical Society. Dr. William Bush and Dr. Joseph Jacobsen served as co-moderators at the afternoon sessions.

Dr. Milton Grover was chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements, assisted by Dr. Herbert Derman, Dr. Ted Smalldon and Dr. John A, Cooke, Jr.
